

Banker Stares Down Gunman at Nichols State Bank

Trio Captured Near Shiocton; Man Admits Holdup Attempt

Nichols — Darrel Hahn, assistant cashier of the Nichols State bank, armed with a 9-mm Luger pistol, this morning stared down a would-be hold-up man armed with a sawed-off shotgun and forced him to flee.

A Milwaukee couple and an Outagamie county man were arrested by the Outagamie county sheriff's department early this afternoon and Undersheriff Donald Heinritz said "We've got it cleaned up."

The Milwaukee man has admitted participating in the attempted robbery, Heinritz said. Questioning of the others is continuing.

Capture of the three came after the automobile used in the attempted robbery had a flat tire and was left in the woods off a town road near Highway 187, halfway between Shiocton and Leeman.

Heinritz said the Outagamie county man, a suspect, went to the Nichols bank to prove he was not the man who had entered the bank with the gun. He had told his father, however, of a car with tire trouble and the father accompanied Heinritz when the undersheriff went to inspect the vehicle and found it was the one sought in the attempted robbery. The Milwaukee couple was in a nearby house eating lunch. Heinritz radioed for help and the pair, with the local man, were arrested.

Hahn said for two or three minutes the hold-up man armed with a sawed-off single-barrel shotgun faced Hahn's 9 mm Luger until the robber fled from the bank.

As the robber fled in a battered tan or gray car, Hahn fired after him as he headed west on Highway 156. He did not think he hit the car. There were no license plates on the auto.

Hahn said that about 10:15 a.m. the robber appeared at the bank and herded Mrs. Harold Rudie, town of Lessor treasurer, and two or three town taxpayers into a corner of the bank.

Hahn, behind a "bandit barrier" of steel and bullet-proof glass, grabbed his Luger and ordered the man from the bank.

"I gave him a chance to get away, warning him all of the time that I would shoot," Hahn related. "He hesitated for what seemed two or three minutes and then fled."

Hahn was collecting town of Cicero taxes in the area in back of the bank protected by the "bandit barrier." He is town treasurer. He said there were several other people in the bank on private business.

Ike Flies to Chile on Good Will Mission

By Marvin L. Arrowsmith

Santiago, Chile — President Eisenhower today flew into friendly Chile to see a nation prospering by economic belt-tightening. It was the third stop of his 4-nation Latin-American tour.

As the first U.S. president over to visit this country, Eisenhower was assured a warm welcome during his 2-day stay with Chileans noted for their hospitality.

Greeting Eisenhower on his arrival from Argentina was Chile's 63-year-old bachelor, President Jorge Alessandri. Crowds lined the route to the U. S. embassy residence along broad, tree-lined Alameda Bernardo O'Higgins, named for Chile's national hero.

The capital under the snow-capped Andes mountains was gaily decorated with flags of both nations and bunting. The enthusiastic Chileans went out all out to match with hospitality the welcomes accorded Eisenhower by their richer and bigger neighbors, Brazil and Argentina.

Eisenhower, who has begun to show at times the physical strain of his gruelling tour in tropical temperatures, was to lunch privately at the embassy before setting out on an

West to Fly Higher Above Air Corridors

Planes Will Top 10,000 Feet Over German Regions

Washington — The United States, Britain and France have decided to resume flying the air corridors between West Berlin and West Germany at altitudes above 10,000 feet — a practice with which Soviet fighter planes interfered in the past.

Russia is being notified of the decision, it was reported here today, so there can be no misunderstanding on Moscow's part of what is involved. The three western powers, with about 11,000 troops to maintain as a protective force in West Berlin, have long insisted that there is no limitation on the altitude at which their supply and transport aircraft can fly into and out of West Berlin. The air corridors traverse the territory of communist East Germany.

Claims Ceiling Set Russia, by contrast, has claimed a 10,000-foot ceiling was established by agreement between Soviet and allied authorities years ago. The Russians contend that any flight above that limit is a violation which can subject the high-altitude aircraft to the attention of Soviet fighter planes.

The issue was sharply drawn last March 27 and April 15 when several U. S. turboprop planes flew above 10,000 feet in the assigned corridors over East Germany. Soviet fighter planes made passes around the U. S. aircraft.

Democrats Say Budget Doesn't Meet U. S. Needs

Washington — The Democratic majority on the senate-house economic committee said today President Eisenhower's budget and economic report fail to meet the nation's growth and job needs for 1960.

"By and large they are a status quo budget and report," the majority report said. The Republican minority, calling them ample, fired back that the majority again was guilty of what it called "inexcusable juggling" of figures. The GOP members also accused the Democrats of "innuendo and misrepresentation."

Nude Girl Found

Pair Sought in Brown County Suspected Rape

A check on the girls' whereabouts Sunday night also was made, since she reportedly was in a state of intoxication when she was found.

Green Bay — The sheriff's office is investigating a reported rape in western Brown county early today. A girl, reported to be 19 years old and from Green Bay, was found walking nude on a rural road in the desolate area of the Wisconsin State Reformatory Oneida Honor farm near the Brown-Outagamie county line. The first call to the sheriff's department was received from the home of an official of the farm.

The girl, apparently pushed out of a car, was taken to St. Vincent hospital. Her face had been cut and several teeth loosened. X-ray were taken to determine whether her jaw was fractured. She was in a state of shock for several hours.

She was examined to verify the sexual attack, but reports were not conclusive, a physician said.

Investigation was turned toward finding two suspects, thought possibly to be from outside Brown county. Indications were that one man was the principal assailant but that another man was present. Sheriff Artley Skenandore ordered the case kept off radio broadcasts this morning to prevent widespread knowledge which might impede questioning of persons with information on the two suspects.

Separate Pact if Talks Fail, Khrushchev Says

Asserts Russians and East Germans Will Act Unless Accord Is Reached

Jakarta, Indonesia — Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev today said Russia will sign a separate peace treaty giving East Germany control of West Berlin if the Big Four summit talks in May fail to reach agreement on an over-all German settlement.

Khrushchev spoke at a news conference after his return from Bogor, where he agreed to lend Indonesia a $250 million credit in an effort to check this Southeast Asian nation's slow drift westward.

The Soviet threat to sign a separate peace treaty with East Germany had never been abandoned, and in recent weeks has been repeated at intervals. But this was the first time Khrushchev had tied it to the outcome of the May summit conference. "The question of Berlin is one of eliminating vestiges of World War II," the Soviet leader declared. "We cannot talk about peace without eliminating these vestiges."

Would Cancel Agreements Khrushchev said Russia is trying to convince the west of the need for a peace treaty on all Germany. If this is not concluded, he said, Russia will sign a separate agreement with East Germany.

If that happens, he said, all postwar agreements affecting Germany "would cease to be valid" and West Berlin would come under the authority of communist East Germany "because West Berlin stands on territory belonging to the (communist) German democratic republic."

Khrushchev also rejected the idea of a German plebiscite to determine whether the Russian or western plan for unification of that divided country should be accepted. U. S. Sec. of State Christian Herter has been reported considering proposing such a plebiscite and we are against the participation of any other country in such a plebiscite since this would be interfering in the internal affairs of another country," Khrushchev declared.

The western plan calls for establishment of an all-German government by free, U. N.-supervised elections in

Murder Charge To be Reduced

Black River Falls — Dist. Atty. Carlyle Skolos said today he would reduce a first degree murder charge against Mrs. Rachel Kidrick to manslaughter in the Dec. 26 shooting of her husband, Walter. Counsel for Mrs. Kidrick said she would plead guilty to the amended charge.

Trial of the Jackson county farm woman, mother of eight, was scheduled to begin today in circuit court. She had pleaded innocent and innocent by reason of insanity to the murder charge after her 59-year-old husband was found dead in their home.

Weather to Stay Cold; No Big Change

Wisconsin — Continued cold weather over the state. Outlook for Wednesday: Continued cold, with considerable cloudiness and scattered snow flurries.

Appleton — Temperatures for the 24-hour period ending at 9 a. m. today: High 26, low 8. Temperatures at 11 a. m. today 15. Barometer reading 30.29 inches with wind west at 13 miles an hour. Traces of new snow. Five and one half inches old snow left on ground.

Sun sets at 5:40 p.m.; rises Tuesday at 6:31 a.m.; moon sets at 9:06 p.m. Prominent stars are Castor and Pollux.

Charlie House Party

Post-Crescent to Sponsor 23-Day European Holiday in 9 Countries

Ever wish for an Aladdin's Lamp you could rub and produce a magic carpet which could take you to far places and make travel dreams come true?

Well, now you have it.

The Post-Crescent will sponsor a 23-day European House Party from July 10 to Aug. 1, with every detail carefully planned in advance and offered at a budget price.

Headed by Post-Crescent Columnist Charlie House, the tour will leave the Appleton and Green Bay airports for some of the most historic and interesting cities in Denmark, Germany, Austria, Italy, France, Belgium, Holland, England and Scotland.

Limited to 75 Because of the necessity of long-range advance planning to secure the best accommodations throughout Europe, the tour will be made available to a maximum of 75 persons.

The total charge for the trip, Appleton to Appleton, will be $1,098. This will include air transportation from Green Bay to New York and return, total transportation costs from New York, through Europe and return to New York, two meals a day for the 23 days, all rooming accommodations, guide fees, tips and continental taxes.

The trip is not so completely planned that the tourist won't have some time for himself.

2 Meals Per Day

You'll notice that the basic plan calls for only two meals a day. This is to allow individuals or small groups to pick out any of the hundreds of famous restaurants that dot the itinerary for a change of pace or to suit a particular fancy.

Also, of course, that $1,098 doesn't cover all of the expenses you may wish to run up on the trip. Naturally, it won't pay for the perfume or dresses a lady may want to buy in Paris; it won't cover the cost of a man's hat or shoes from Italy, or hand-carved mementoes from Munich or London.

And, as you probably guessed, the price does not include the cost of beverages along the route.

Asks Hearing on Water Diversion

Washington — Sen. Paul Douglas (D-Ill.) has criticized Canada's stand on the Lake Michigan water diversion bill and has called for a public hearing on the issue.

In a letter Sunday to Sen. J. W. Fulbright (D-Ark.), chairman of the senate foreign relations committee, Douglas also criticized the state department for what he termed the department's habit of "of disregarding the pressing needs and interests of American citizens in order to meet the wishes, however unreasonable, of a foreign government."

This referred to Canadian opposition to the water diversion bill.

Employer Uncovers Tragedy

Frozen Bodies of 8 Asphyxiation Victims Found in Illinois Dwelling

Thomson, Ill. — An auto dealer trudged through heavy snow along the banks of the Mississippi river to reach the secluded house of an employee yesterday and found him and seven other members of his family dead.

The frozen bodies of Leroy C. Hensel, 59, his wife, Dora, 53, and their six children were discovered by Eddie Shuler, for whom Hensel worked as a mechanic. The Hensel children, four daughters and two sons, ranged in age from 7 to 17 years.

Dr. L. B. Hussey, Carroll county deputy coroner, said the eight apparently died of asphyxiation a week ago in the 4-room house the family was building. An oil burner in the house was extinguished and the oil tanks were empty.

Shuler said he decided to drive to the Hensel home to see if Hensel was sick as he had not been to work at Shuler's garage in nearby Morris since Feb. 9.

Shuler said Hensel had told him not to worry if he didn't show up for work because of the severe snowstorms it took two or three days to dig out.

The house is a mile south-west of Ebner, a small railroad switching station south of Thomson in northwestern Illinois.

"But I decided to take a look and see if he was sick," Shuler said. His car became stuck in a snowdrift as he drove near Thomson, Shuler, leaving his wife, their daughter and his son-in-law in the car, started to trample through the heavy snow to the little Hensel house.

He was greeted by a little barking dog.

He said there was no response to his knocks on the door — there is only one door — or to his shouts. So he pulled the door off the hook to gain entrance.

"When I opened the door I was shocked," Shuler said in relating that he saw Hensel and his wife dead in folding cots in the living room.

Finds Children Dead

Shuler also found the children dead. They were Judy, 17; Billy, 14; Leroy 12; Susan, 10; Patricia, 8, and Jane, 7.

Group Asks End to Defense Confusion

Senate Probers Also Trying To Improve Policy-Making Machinery on Military Needs

Washington —(P)—Legislation to “unconfuse” the public on America’s military posture and improve the defense policy-making machinery was under study today by senate investigators.

The government operations subcommittee headed by Sen. Henry M. Jackson (D-Wash.) which last week heard top-ranking Republican businessmen criticize the government’s decision-making process, weighed proposals affecting the state and defense departments and other agencies.

Some bills will be offered for congressional action this session, committee sources predicted. Tougher proposals may be delayed, to avoid having them considered in the politically charged atmosphere of an election year.

Tight Money Policies Hit By Humphrey

Wisconsin Rapids Talk Aimed at Ike Administration

By The Associated Press

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, campaigning for Wisconsin delegate votes to the national Democratic convention, assailed the Eisenhower administration’s “tight money policies” Sunday night.

The Minnesota senator, speaking at a rally at Wisconsin Rapids, said the policies have led to “a Robin Hood in reverse—with the benefits going to the big money lenders and big money houses.”

Humphrey had been scheduled to start his current tour of northwestern Wisconsin Saturday, but was delayed by illness. He spoke at Eau Claire and Wisconsin Rapids Sunday and planned a trip into the 10th congressional district today with a major address in Ashland at night.

Entered in Primary

He is entered in the Wisconsin April 5 presidential primary against Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass.). Kennedy recently completed a 3-day trip in northwestern Wisconsin and plans another tour starting March 9.

Humphrey said that people who buy homes costing $13,000 to $15,000 now have to pay $2,000 to $3,000 more in interest rates than they did in 1952.

“Farmers are paying 13 percent more in interest rates on equipment and other things they buy on credit than they paid in 1951,” he said.

Gov. Gaylord Nelson, speaking to 300 labor leaders from 10 counties at the La Crosse meeting, attacked critics of government expenditures.

“The single service of education, produced by the government, is more important than all other enterprise in the world,” Nelson said.

Shotgun Blasts Hit Negro Home

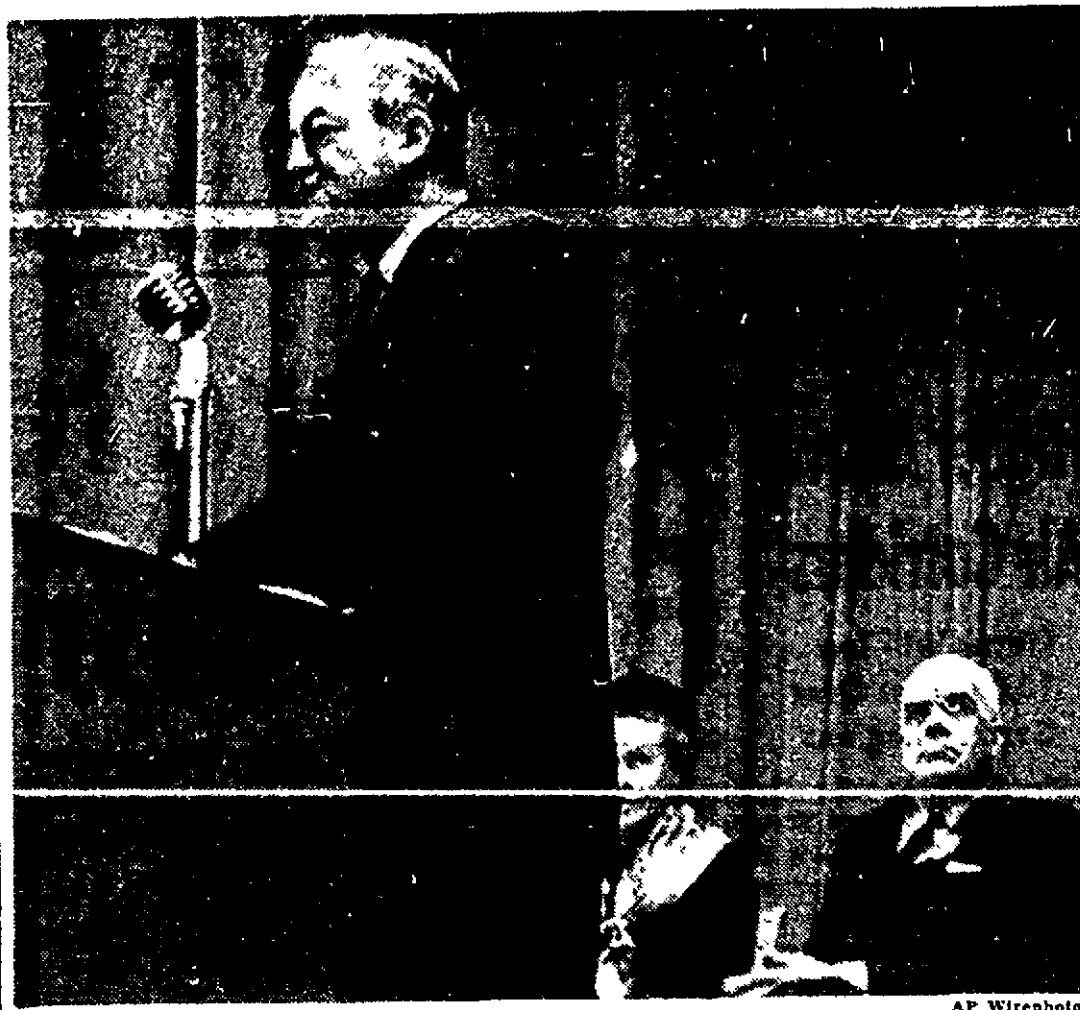

Houston, Texas —(P)—A Negro man moving into an all-white neighborhood told police someone fired a shotgun blast into the front door of the house and smashed a window Sunday.

James Anderson said the shotgun blast hit his house while his son, James, 17, was in the rear of the small frame building. There were no injuries.

A neighbor, Simon Sosa, 37, told officers he saw one of three white men in a car fire at the house and drive off.

Officers found three empty shotgun shells in front of the home.

Need Intellectual Competition, Head Of College Tells Principal's Group

BY G. K. HODENFIELD

Portland, Ore. —(P)—American youngsters are proud of their muscles, but they seem ashamed of their brains. And that, a college president said today, is a situation that must be changed.

What this country needs, said Dr. Lee A. DuBridge of the California Institute of Technology, is open, honest intellectual competition throughout our high schools and colleges.

“We have always been perfectly frank about athletic competition, about a boy’s ability to make the football or basketball team,” he said. “But we have been reticent to talk about differences in intellectual ability.”

Create atmosphere

In a speech prepared for the National Association of Secondary-School Principals, DuBridge said the nation’s high schools must create an atmosphere in which intellectual achievement is recognized, admired and respected.

He told of a young man who, a few years ago, met all the rigorous entrance requirements for Cal tech.

“He could say with perfect frankness,” DuBridge said, “that he would love to be awarded an athletic scholarship, but that he would be frankly ashamed to accept a ‘brain scholarship.’ Since that is the only kind we offer, he did not come to Cal tech.”

By 1970, DuBridge said, at least 65 per cent of the high school graduates will be going on to college or university. The competition for admission is going to be so rough, he added, that the prestige schools, both public and private, will have to raise their standards and accept only those at the very top in ability and achievement.

Message Back From Balloon Up 225 Miles

Sphere Tall as 10-Story Building Falls Into Ocean

Washington —(P)—Space scientists are making further checks today on the performance of a message-bouncing balloon fired aloft Saturday evening.

A 2-stage rocket launched from Wallops Island, Va., carried the 130-pound bundle of plastic sheeting skyward. The package blossomed in to a sphere as tall as a 10-story building when it reached an altitude of 225 miles. It fell into the Atlantic several hours later.

Where skies were clear, the aerial experiment could be seen from Maine to South Carolina — and 500 miles inland from the east coast. The reflection of the sun on the fine film of aluminum which coated the plastic sphere made it shine like a huge star.

Lopsided Halo

A reddish-orange glow which surrounded the sphere like a lopsided halo came from the sphere’s inflating gas. Powders which helped to inflate the sphere were colored so the gas would be clearly visible. The gas was not visible in similar experiments last Oct. 28 and Jan. 16. As the sphere glowed in the sky, a 12-sentence voice message was beamed at it from the Bell telephone laboratories at Holmdel, N. J. The message was received on the bounce at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology station at Round Hill, Mass., and at the General Electric company laboratories at Schenectady, N. Y.

The taped message was a description of the experiment itself and started out with something like “This is a test of voice transmission.”

Similar spheres later will be fired into orbit to serve as reflectors for radio signals.

The National Aeronautics and Space administration said the 225 mile altitude was approximately what had been hoped for. But further checking is still needed to determine such factors as whether the sphere achieved maximum inflation.

Supermarket Likes To See Men Shopping

Dallas —(P)—A supermarket executive says his company likes to see men do the grocery shopping.

“We do a lot more business that way,” Stephen A. Douglas, vice president of the Kroger company, said Sunday.

“The wife still makes out the list when the husband does the shopping, but he will always pick up a few extra items.”

The ideal situation, he said, is the husband and wife shopping team “if they shop together, they buy more.”

Douglas is in Dallas to make a speech tonight at a convention of the Dairy Products institute of Texas.

Nehru, Cho En-Lai Agree to Meeting On Border Dispute

April Session in New Delhi Regarded as Exploratory Move

New Delhi, India —(P)—Indian Prime Minister Nehru and Red Chinese Premier Chou-En-lai today agreed to an April meeting in New Delhi to discuss their border dispute.

Both leaders made clear they regarded the talks as exploratory with the prospect of setting in motion negotiations for settling the frontier feud which has brought bloodshed.

Nehru’s announcement that he was agreeable to meeting Chou “sometime in April” drew applause in parliament.

Object to Talks

But leaders of the opposition praja (peoples) socialist party and the right-wing jan sangh party have objected to talks with Chou so long as the communists occupy territory claimed by India.

Nehru sought to forestall a row by declaring, “I am sure when he (Chou) comes here he will be received with the courtesy and hospitality which India gives to distinguished visitors.”

No definite date has been fixed for the meeting.

Nehru had suggested March but Chou replied that he would be busy with state affairs then and said bluntly, “I shall come to your country in April.”

Flying to London

The Indian leader told parliament that the meeting would have to be early in April as he is flying to London for a commonwealth prime ministers’ conference late in the month.

Socialist leaders noted Chou’s acceptance of the invitation to New Delhi was timed just before Nehru confers again with Nikita S. Khrushchev in Calcutta this week, during a stopover by the Soviet premier returning from Indonesia.

Khrushchev has publicly appealed to both New Delhi and Peiping to settle their differences peacefully, but the Soviet premier insisted he was not getting involved in the dispute.

Involved are conflicting claims to 51,000 square miles of mountainous territory on the frontier.

4 Boys Burglarized Store, Took Holiday

Milwaukee —(P)—Four Milwaukee boys who admitted they burglarized a food store of $900 Sunday were picked up later in the day in Chicago because they were flashing more money than youngsters usually carry.

Three of the boys are 15 and the fourth 13. Chicago police said they admitted breaking into the Louis Pure Food store in Milwaukee, and taking $727 in cash and $175 in money orders. They took a train to Chicago for a spending spree after they buried most of the money near their homes.

Girl, 13, Gets Quick Results From Complaint About Heat

New York —(P)—Thirteen-year-old Ellen Kreisler was fed up.

Since new owners took over the apartment house in which she lives with her parents, there was seldom enough heat. Tenants of the building filed at least 50 complaints with the health department.

But the building was adequately heated each time an inspector came to check.

Ellen's mother recently came home from a hospital. Ellen was worried about the lack of heat and hot water for her.

Sunday, Ellen's television was tuned to a program called "Direct Line." Volunteers take telephoned questions from the citizenry and pass some of them on to a city official appearing on the program.

The official Sunday was Mayor Robert F. Wagner. Ellen called in her question:

"There are 150 tenants in our building. Many are watching to hear your reply. We keep calling the board of health and building department about the lack of hot water and heat, plus many other violations, with no satisfaction. What is our next step?"

Wagner read Ellen's message and promised to look into the matter as soon as the program went off the air. He did, too. And so did his underlings.

Within an hour after the program went off the air, city officials were phoning the Kreislers to see if they were comfortably heated.

Coincidental or not, they were. The heat began to come up just after the mayor read Ellen's question on the air.

Ellen was instructed to keep a daily record of the temperatures in the apartment. She set about this task with vigor and determination.

Breakwater Project at Waverly Beach Ok'd

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
Madison — Construction of a breakwater at Waverly beach to provide shelter for small pleasure craft and an enclosure for a marina has been approved by the Wisconsin Public Service commission. Clem Weinandt, Menasha, has been given a permit by the state agency under the law which requires state authorization for obstructions in waters that are navigable.

The new breakwater will be adjacent to the Waverly Beach resort in the town of Harrison.

Form of Arc

The structure will extend about 4.8 feet above the standard low water level, and will be in the form of an arc starting immediately east of the Winnebago - Calumet county line, and ending about 610 feet east of that line.

The commission said the area does not now provide a shelter for boats. Weinandt also informed the commission that he will build mooring piers and a marina where fuel and other supplies may be purchased. The structure will protect such facilities and will be an aid to navigation, the commission found.

Governor's Son Picking Up Father's Repartee

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
Madison — Gaylord Nelson, Jr., the governor's 5-year-old son, may be picking up his father's skill in repartee.

The governor told reporters at his news conference Friday that the boy had torn down a part of a stone garden wall at the executive residence for a personal building project.

"It took a lot of work to build that wall," the father admonished the child. "It took a lot of work to tear it down," the boy responded.

The Physical therapist and crippled children are the emblems of the 1960 Easter Seal campaign. Easter seals will be delivered to 40 million homes during the seal campaign March 17 to Easter Sunday, April 17. The seals are red and blue. The lily in the lower seal is the official symbol of Easter seal societies.

Algerian Rebel Head Rejects Peace Plan

Ferhat Abbas Says Solutions Are Not Workable

Tunis — Ferhat Abbas, premier of the Algerian rebel government-in-exile, today rejected any peace plan which would "Balkanize" Algeria into separate ethnic or religious states.

"Such solutions are not workable," Abbas said in a statement. "The Algerian people reject them."

The statement was prompted by indications from Paris that French President Charles de Gaulle was considering some kind of ethnic or religious division of Algeria as a solution to the 5-year rebellion there. France would retain control of areas largely settled by the French.

Local Elections
Abbas said that forthcoming local elections in Algeria were scheduled by the French government as a concession to "colonialists." He said it was "ridiculous" to talk of elections "in the conditions which now exist."

Abbas reiterated the rebel demand for negotiations on guarantees to accompany the self-determination offered Algeria by De Gaulle and accepted in principle by the rebels. De Gaulle has refused to discuss anything with the rebels but a military ceasefire, contending they represent only a segment of the Algerian population and therefore are not qualified to negotiate political questions.

Abbas said that the only guarantee of free elections offered by France so far was "the word of the French army."

Self-determination, said Abbas, is in effect capable of settling, once and for all, the Algerian problem in leaving to the people the ability to decide freely and in sovereignty, their destiny.

Talk on Advertising

Burton E. Hotvedt, vice president and manager of the Brady Advertising company's Milwaukee office, will address a Tuesday morning session of a business seminar sponsored by Northwestern university and the Office Management association of Chicago at the Conrad Hilton hotel, Chicago. Subject of his speech will be "Utilizing Inherent Motivations."

David Bliss, Appleton, Left, was awarded a certificate for his work last year as Fox Valley chairman for the National Conference of Christians and Jews. Wayne Long, Neenah, 1960 chairman presented the certificate. Dr. L. H. Adolfson, state conference chairman, has cited recent anti-religious vandalism as an expression of a need for more dedicated work toward brotherhood.

Present Flags

The Women's Relief corps of Appleton presented an indoor American flag to the first and second grade room of the Speel school, route 4, last week. An outdoor flag was presented to the upper grade room.

1,900 Members of Order Of 29ers Celebrate

Pittsburg, Kan. — The quadrennial meeting of the Order of 29ers is in session.

You who are members of world chapter No. 1 are scattered all over the United States and some other countries, but you know this is The Day. You are celebrating your birthday today for the first time in four years.

Because he felt you were being short-changed, F. W. Brinkerhoff, the Pittsburg, Kan. editor and publisher, founded the order in 1928. Then, as now, he sent a membership scroll to anyone born on Feb. 29. There are no dues, no formal meetings.

Since your last birthday membership in the order has grown to 1,900. Senior member is Miss Julia Covert of Jeffersonville, Ind., who is 104 years old today.

Next are Mrs. Irene Alexander of Oskaloosa, Kan. and Mrs. Elizabeth Cathen of Chickasha, Okla., 100 years old.

Century years not divisible for 400 are not leap years, yet the organization secretary, Kenneth L. Simons, reports there have been three applications claiming birth Feb. 29, 1900. One woman indignantly insisted the date was right. She said her mother and the family Bible supported her claim.

Simons, managing editor of the Pittsburg Headlight and Sun, says among members are 13 sets of twins, including two upstate New York sisters born in 1876. There are also three or four sisters and brothers born Feb. 29, four or eight years apart.

A newspaper in California has offered to form world chapter No. 2.

Meeting adjourned until Feb. 29, 1964.

BACKACHE

A recent advertisement of a pharmaceutical supply house started with this question: "What's back of your backache?"

The Chiropractor would simply answer, "your back of course." Chiropractors are spine specialists. Through the aid of their skilled research workers in neurology, balance and tension control techniques, and with especially designed x-ray equipment have found new and modern ways of correcting the cause of backache.

Whether you need advice regarding posture, your bed, special shoes, the use of helpful exercise, or skillful manipulation or adjustment your Chiropractor is best able to help you. He will correct the cause of your backache and give you relief. Follow his instructions to the letter.

Ike Flies to Chile on His Good Will Tour afternoon of official ceremonies.

The afternoon schedule included the placing of a wreath at the monument to O'Higgins in the afternoon and then a formal call on Alessandri in the presidential palace, followed by a private talk between the two presidents.

Chile and the United States have long enjoyed friendly relations, and no political issues confronted the two leaders.

Chile, with about 7 1/2 million people crowded into an area of less than 300,000 square miles, has been plagued with one of the worst cases of inflation in Latin America. The Alessandri government has won the support of the U. S. government and banks by instituting an austerity program that has brought good results.

The cost of living, though, is still very high, and wages are low, forcing many to work at odd jobs. Chile would like to sell more copper, the backbone of its economy, and more of its iron ore, which is growing in importance to the economy.

Tomorrow Eisenhower addresses the Chilean congress and on Wednesday he flies to Montevideo, Uruguay, his last stop in South America.

Eisenhower came to this long, narrow country that hugs the lower west coast of South America after pledging with Argentine President Arturo Frondizi to work for better living standards in the Americas.

No Intervention

The U. S. and Argentine presidents also agreed in a "Declaration of Bariloche" that their governments would continue to work for non-intervention from abroad in the internal affairs of nations and mutual respect among nations.

The declaration was signed last night as Eisenhower's visit drew to a close at the resort in the foothills of the Andes mountains.

The declaration was in general terms and did not deal specifically with Frondizi's call at a new conference earlier yesterday for an increase in U. S. financial and technical aid to Latin American countries.

The Argentine president, asked about the prospects of Moscow's campaign to increase the Soviet sphere of influence in the hemisphere, replied that "depends on Latin America's own efforts and the help it receives for its development."

"The United States, within its possibilities, should increase its financial and technical help," he said in answer to a question. But he added that "only people with colonial attitudes can expect that foreign help will solve their problems."

Man Killed in Turnip Quarrel

Tampa, Fla. —(AP)—Frank Rawlins, 62, was shot to death in his home after an argument over how to cook turnip greens.

Sam Human, 51, was held for investigation of murder. Police Detective Ralph Mills gave this account:

Human, a boarder at the Rawlins home, brought home some turnip greens Sunday night and told Rawlins' wife to cook them with stems on. She said she'd cook them as she always did — with stems off — and then put the stems in for Human.

While the turnip greens, stems and all, simmered the trio had several drinks. Human made a derogatory remark to Mrs. Rawlins, her husband jumped to his feet and Human shot him in the jaw and neck with a .25 caliber pistol.

Mother, 2 Sons Perish in Fire

Philadelphia —(AP)—A mother and her two sons were trapped and killed Sunday by a blaze described by Fire Chief George Hink as "another one of those cases of a delayed alarm."

The bodies of Mrs. Rose Ann Rilling, 26, and sons John, 7, and George, 3, were found in their second floor bedroom. Firemen said she had her arms around the boys, trying to shield them from the flames.

Hink said the fire had started in a sofa on the first floor but that flames were shooting from all windows and the roof by the time firemen arrived.

Investigators said Mrs. Rilling, after apparently trying to save her children, called a telephone operator who then summoned the fire department.

both parts of Germany. The Soviet Union proposes unification negotiations between the West and East German governments.

"A plebiscite in this or that state is the sole concern of the countries involved," Khrushchev said. "We are not neighbors of Germany. If they want to, the two German governments can come to agreement on this."

The Soviet leader said he would "exert all efforts to bring the (summit) conference to a successful conclusion."

"I do believe in the good intentions of President Eisenhower, Prime Minister Macmillan and President Charles de Gaulle," he declared.

Khrushchev dodged the delicate question of communist China and its current dispute with Indonesia over the

4 of Family of 9 Killed in Highway Crash

Detroit —(AP)—Four members of a family of nine homeward bound from a Sunday visit with grandparents were killed Sunday night in their station wagon on an icy road near Detroit.

The station wagon skidded into a dump truck and then was struck by another car.

Killed were Allen C. Kaiser, 38, of suburban Royal Oak; his wife, Mary, 34; their son, Mark, 1, and daughter, Maria, 3.

Injured were, Kathleen, 9; Lynn, 13; Allen, Jr., 11; John, 10, and Carl, 7. They were reported in fair condition today at Beaumont hospital in Royal Oak.

Kaiser was a test engineer for the Utica-Bend corporation at Utica, Mich. He had recently moved his family into a $35,000 home near the Roman Catholic shrine of the Little Flower.

At the hospital, Dr. Joseph Schirle, Jr., of Pontiac, a brother of Mrs. Kaiser, said, "we'll make the best possible arrangements for the surviving children, but how could things ever be the same for them? They were such a wonderful family, closely knit and full of the joy of life."

"This thing just shouldn't have happened, but it did,"

Defense Rests in Van Rie Murder Trial

Boston —(AP)—The defense rested today in the murder trial of William van Rie, 31-year-old Dutch radio operator accused of beating a pretty, 23-year-old divorcee and tossing her to her death in Boston harbor last Sept. 18.

The action came suddenly as the fifteenth trial day got underway in Suffolk superior court before Judge Frank J. Murray and an all-male jury.

Baseball Star Talks at Dinner

Robinson Outlines Segregation Views At Manitowoc

Manitowoc — Jackie Robinson, famed major league second baseman, Sunday night called upon the United States to start to recognize the Negro as an individual and on his merit as an American citizen.

Robinson spoke at one of the largest Brotherhood banquets in the state. Some 950 persons in this community of 30,000 turned out for the 10th anniversary of the observance.

"To be Americans calls for us (Negroes) to work as hard as everyone else," Robinson said.

Heard Better

"I was proud to play in baseball and have the job I now have," he said. "But because of this fact I do get into the middle of the fight for freedom. Those of us who get ahead owe it to our people. We get listened to more than the average person," he added.

Our problem in the United States, he said, is that "we don't bring out our problems and talk about them. We don't get to hear the other man's point of view and work out our differences."

"Whether the south likes it or not, in a few years business will grab out and take a person for his ability and ability alone. Many then will have to adjust to working with men of another color. Some people say we're going too fast (in the fight for freedom). If we go any slower we go backward," he added.

Keep Defense Ahead Of Balanced Budget, Ex-President Urges

Miami Beach —(AP)—Former President Harry S. Truman says it is a lot better to have a strong national defense than a balanced budget.

"Beware of political budget cutters," Truman told delegates to the 1960-inaugural conference for Israel bonds last night. "Beware of people who belittle the dangers to the security of the free world, and use the smiles of the Russians to justify slashing our defenses. They may be leading us into deadly peril."

It is more important, Truman said, to have a secure nation than it is to have a good campaign argument.

The dinner Truman addressed formally launched the tenth year of the Israeli bond campaign. More than $424 million have been raised since 1951. Americans and Canadians are being asked to raise some $75 million in this year's drive.

But, all of the basic conveniences and necessities will be provided, including warm baths, soft beds and absolutely no trouble with officialdom.

Side Trips Possible
Imagine the opportunity of taking a side tour to the Passion Play at Oberammergau (held every ten years), of traveling through the beautiful Tyrol to Innsbruck, of visiting, personally, many of the most dramatic spots in all history and literature.

The tour, planned with the full cooperation of Scandinavian Airlines and the People's Travel bureau, will leave Green Bay for New York Sunday, July 10.

Sunday afternoon, aboard the majestic and near-soundless DC-8, the entourage will wing from New York to Copenhagen, one of the largest and oldest cities in Scandinavia.

Monday, the group will travel from Copenhagen to Düsseldorf, continuing by motor coach to Cologne and Bonn along the Rhine river.

Travel on The Rhine
After arriving at Koblenz, the party will be housed at the romantic Pfälzer hof, beautifully situated in the very heart of the Rhineland.

Departing Koblenz by Rhine steamer, they will travel past numerous historic castles and famous Lorelei Rock to Weisbaden and the Hotel Gruner Wald.

Holiday Tour Idea Started With Charlie

Columnist Seeks Readers' Reaction; Europe Big Choice

The European Holiday tour announced today all started with Charlie House and the yen of the Post-Crescent's wandering columnist to bring out-of-the-way things and places to his readers.

For several years the newspaper had been approached to sponsor some form of European tour but its direct application to readers always seemed missing.

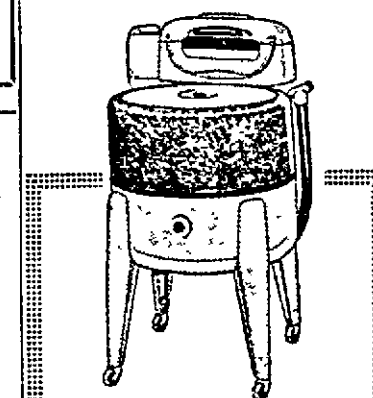

Then, late last year, the suggestion was made that Charlie go to Europe, taking people from this area with him.

To feel out the general attitude of his readers, House asked them where they thought he should go on his next big assignment. As if pre-arranged, the majority of persons writing in suggested one or another place in Europe.

Contest Held
To add sparkle to a tour idea and to help generate initial interest in the 23-day trip, it was decided to pick someone to go along with him with all of the latter's expenses a sorbed by the newspaper.

Thus was started the novel contest which led to an announced winner last Tuesday. He is Victor Bast, 38, an Oconto Falls schoolteacher who has completed the thought "I want to go to Europe with Charlie House because . . ."

Under arrangements now completed with the bureau, the first 75 area persons to sign up will make the 9-country tour of Europe. They will be accom-

Bombing Planes for Insurance

The testimony of James R. Durfee, chairman of the Civil Aeronautics Board, before a Senate investigating committee is that a dynamite explosion which was triggered electrically by a dry cell battery took place near the seat of Julian A. Frank shortly before a National Airlines plane crashed near Bolivia, N. C., on Jan. 6.

Julian Frank was a 32-year-old New York attorney who was carrying more than a million dollars in insurance on his life at the time of the explosion. Almost all of the insurance was obtained during the preceding year, according to other testimony before the committee. The CAB had carefully gathered every bit of the plane that could be found and used it to rebuild the structure. From that rebuilding it was able to place the explosion in the vicinity of Frank's seat on the plane. Through the examination of Frank's body it was learned that bits of steel wire and manganese dioxide, a substance found in dry cell batteries, were embedded in his body.

The explosion had occurred over water but the plane was headed for land and had reached the shore before it actually crashed. However, Frank's body had been blown out of the plane at the point of explosion nearly 20 miles from where the plane crashed. The body later washed ashore and made its contribution to the story which the CAB was piecing together. Examination of the reconstructed plane showed there was no structural failure of the craft prior to the time the 4-engine DC-6 struck the ground. As a result of studying the reconstructed plane, Durfee testified that the investigators found no evidence of malfunction in the engines or propeller that could have caused the accident.

This study is of special importance because it may be related in some respect to the crash of a National DC-7 in the Gulf of Mexico in a flight from Miami to New Orleans on Nov. 16.

On that flight, Dr. Robert Spears, an ex-convict, was listed as a passenger and presumed dead until he later turned up in the best of health. Then it was learned that a friend of his, William Allen Taylor, 58, of Tampa, Fla., also an ex-convict, had taken Spears' place on that flight. Spears had been insured for $100,000 but he has denied that he sent his friend to die in his place to make the insurance available for Spears' wife. He claimed he had merely decided to disappear as a means of escaping trial on two counts of abortion and one of conspiracy in Los Angeles. However, he has been convicted of transporting a stolen car across state lines and now is safely tucked away in prison.

This plane crashed over the Gulf and to date it has not been possible to recover enough of it for a determination of the cause of the crash. However, according to Durfee, the CAB is continuing its investigation and expects to have the help of the navy soon in a new effort to recover the plane. At one time during the early investigation of the Gulf crash, there was testimony that Spears had had some contact with Frank prior to the crashes. This statement set a great many imaginations working overtime on the possibility of a connection between the two crashes but nothing has been developed in that area recently. One purpose of the search to the cause of these crashes is to find some means of preventing them in the future. Even though no legislation results, it seems likely that the development of the facts will in itself prove a deterrent.

Most bombs, whether carried aboard by an innocent passenger or by a person bent on suicide, are started on their journey largely because the sender is convinced that a bomb explosion on a plane thousands of feet up in the air and possibly over a mountainous area or over the ocean will be very difficult to detect. Detection is feared by the criminal who remains on the ground and also is feared by the person planning suicide because it will in many cases void the insurance which he hopes to leave as a part of his estate. Thorough investigations revealing the cause and thus making it impossible for either type of wrongdoer to profit from his criminal act will make the idea much less appealing in the future.

Something for the Old Folks

Businessweek Magazine says political leaders have been examining the problems of "old folks" with the result that both political parties "are expected to write strong planks for the aged into their 1960 presidential platforms."

One reason for the politician's solicitude for the old folks is that there are so many elderly voters today. It is not necessarily that they are in need for the politicians appear to want to do "something" for the elderly even though they are not quite sure what.

Businessweek points out that more than 20 per cent of the eligible voters this fall will be over 60, and the number may reach 25 per cent by 1970. Only 12 per cent of the voters were over 60 back in 1900.

The magazine says of the 12 million American families now headed by persons 55 years or older nearly 6.5 million have a total income of less than $4,000. Nearly 3.8 million of these families have incomes under $2,000. Thus the magazine says for these the three basic needs are income, medical care and housing. It is these three basic needs which will get the most attention from Congress.

The magazine predicts some tampering with the Social Security law although it is not certain that the Forand bill will be adopted this year. That bill would increase the Social Security tax by one-fourth of one per cent on employer and employee to finance hospital, surgical and nursing home insurance. But the magazine believes there may be action to eliminate the requirements that disabled persons must be at least 50 years old to receive benefits, or to liberalize the $1,200 annual limit on earnings of Social Security beneficiaries, or to increase the general level of benefits.

Wandering in Mind and Body

Whenever someone with obviously high mental capacities does something noteworthy in another field, criticism is apt to bring charges of anti-intellectualism. This is particularly true of pseudo-liberals.

But Dr. Linus Pauling has shown that even the brilliant can make mistakes when they get away from their specialized fields. Dr. Pauling, 1954 Nobel Prize winner for his findings about the atomic structure of molecules, went for a walk last month near his home in Monterey, Calif. When he didn't return as expected, his worried wife set forest rangers searching for him with bloodhounds and helicopters. Dr. Pauling was finally located, well but shaken, on a ledge 300 feet above a rough Pacific ocean. He was familiar with the area but somehow, dreaming perhaps of molecules, he climbed up there and couldn't get down.

So the next time some intellectuals join a Communist front group as they have done quite often in the past, the tolerant may concede that they were thinking of something else at the moment but that the decision was not necessarily bright.

Predicts English Will be World's Common Language

From The Greenville (S.C.) Piedmont
Somerset Maugham, who is now a lively 86, started out to be first of all a teller of entertaining stories, though he threw in a couple of masterpieces just to prove he could. As he outgrew the fascination with purplish prose which seems to be a necessary stage in writer's development, he developed a sparse, clear style which is once got a kick out of. He still likes to talk, though.

And so he has been predicting that in two or three centuries English will be a world language. In the mouths of the peoples of the world, he suspects, English will undergo strange transformation — no stranger, though, than the changes it has already undergone since Chaucer.

This is a pleasant thought to anyone whose native tongue is English. It makes a great deal of sense, too. As a nearly uninflected language, English is easy to use and a better agency of communication than most tongues.

Now he is visiting the Far East again, but carefully avoiding exposure to the sort of risk and adventure he

Nothing Wrong With Action Of California's Gov. Brown

Editor, Post-Crescent:

I have just finished reading your editorial, "Reprieve Through Propaganda." It is evident that you do Gov. Brown a great disservice. This reader believes that President Eisenhower ought to be protected in every possible way against the attacks of certain groups in South America, who are the enemies of our government and traditions. These groups would certainly seize upon an incident such as the execution of Chessman, and attempt to degrade our country by its fact. As long as such a possibility exists, it cannot be called absurd. The stakes are too high.

Feels Public Isn't Fair With Candidate for Governor

Editor, Post-Crescent:

This article from Dells Events may be the answer to your young writer of last week. He thought by abolishing entire Conservation department his particular problems would be solved! He may be one of the voters who go to the polls and "vote Democratic or Republican" because of family connections, or "it's the boss' choice" or perhaps he really doesn't care and doesn't vote at all!

Have you examined the experienced records and number of years in public service and executive ability of the two GOP candidates for governor? Not political promotion, but something definite to run our state with!

Jack Olson is politically naive enough to believe that a "good man should come to the aid of his party." But that gullible public! — they never stop to examine the facts and may believe him already defeated easily! (as in Post-Crescent recently) because they believe Kuehn to be backed by party — because he has been promotion agent in Wisconsin!

We in the Fox valley whose jobs depend on industry and the corporations who hire us might well consider what industries we are "taxing out" of Wisconsin into Florida, California, Tennessee, etc. How many new plants has your corporation built in other states in the last five years?

Just print the facts, that's all, and enough of them to get the right picture for everyone.

Second-Hand News From Arizona

100 YEARS AGO
Quoted from the Appleton Crescent for the week of March 3, 1860.

Private letters from Tucson, Arizona, state the report was current there that Gov. Pezchiera had been hanged, although not much confidence was placed in it. The writers say it is not improbable.

Sonora is ripe for another revolution.

Advices from the Rio Grande portion of Arizona say that the feeling of the people is generally in favor of a provisional government for Arizona, in case Congress does not organize a Territory, and that a convention will be called for this purpose. It is not thought that a Judicial District merely will meet the wants of the Territory and any further connection with New Mexico is intolerable.

Traffic in Appleton and throughout most of the state was paralyzed that morning in the worst blizzard of the last four years. Fine snow, driven by a whipping northeast wind, continued to thwart attempts to reopen streets and highways.

The Appleton High school string ensemble, now in its third year under the direction of Jay I. Williams, was believed to be the only high school organization of its kind in Wisconsin. While it was designed mainly for study purposes rather than public appearances, the ensemble performed for all the Appleton service clubs, at most of the churches and at a number of school events.

Both employment and pay-

Kennedy, Humphrey Costs Running High

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

Madison — In their vague talk about limiting campaign spending in the presidential primary and making an accounting to the people on their expense accounts, Sen. Kennedy and Sen. Humphrey are paying self-conscious tribute to some of the political traditions of this state.

But the talk will come to naught. There are no real controls on the subject, in the first instance. The stakes are high and the temptations are correspondingly great, in the second place. And an honest and true accounting, in the third place, will be almost impossible to achieve.

It is perfectly evident that both of these men and their organizations will spend in this comparatively brief fight about control of the Democratic national convention delegation of this small state budgets that would make any candidate for governor or U. S. senator in Wisconsin extremely envious.

Their budgets will partly reflect the more generous standards of their own backgrounds, and partly the exigencies of the situation. They are standing alone. Unlike the typical state candidates, they don't have the benefit of party organizations behind them, and the accumulated impetus of hundreds of other campaigners on their slates.

HOW MUCH?
This column is not privy to the treasury secrets of either of these contenders.

It can be reported, however, that what politicians say publicly and what they say privately about the problems of campaign financing are usually far apart. The experienced campaign manager today will require a campaign chest the size of which would dismay most private citizens whose experience and exposure has been confined to marking the ballot and going to an occasional political rally. The figures are so great, indeed, that the campaign committees use all kinds of devices and circumlocutions to hide them. One of the most effective is operation through a proliferation of local committees, so that there is no central repository even of the reported expenditures that a curious political reporter can tally.

They are going to deny our enemies a chance to darken our image before the world. Philip H. Schwarz Appleton

But even if both of these men instructed their campaign managers to make a complete accounting of their spending, the totals would be so incomplete as to be misleading. There are voluntary and independent campaign vehicles on both sides. There were expenditures months and years ago that had a relation to the Wisconsin effort this month, that would not be included in the expense accounts of this current drive.

IN KIND

And what of the enormous total of non-cash contributions that have the equivalent of cash investments? The salaries and expenses of the hordes of friends and associates who are tramping the country-side, including the mayor of Madison, half of the congressional delegation of Minnesota, the president of the Wisconsin AFL-CIO, and many others?

There are scores of Wisconsin politicians and those of other districts — not to mention non-office holding associates, who are investing weeks of their salaried time in this struggle for Wisconsin convention delegates. Surely their contributions have a cash equivalent? But they would not be counted under the most demanding system of expense reporting.

A couple of years ago George Haberman, the president of the AFL-CIO in the state, in a moment of pique against Sen. Proxmire, complained that the senator didn't properly appreciate the heavy contributions the unions had made to his career. When Haberman's huge figure was publicized in spite of his intentions, he explained that he was talking about "shoe leather," rather than cash gifts. The qualification was illuminating. There are many candidates who might not believe the distinction was important. "Shoe leather" is what the politician buys, in one form or another, with the dollars he coaxes from his moneyed backers.

Asian Flu Virus Appears Weaker

From The Greenville (S.C.) News

Medics of the public health service say that the virus which is causing the current outbreak of what they call Asian Flu is weaker than those which have caused suffering in years past.

Maybe so, but anyone who has been a victim of the bug that is going around now will stoutly deny that it is weak.

118,000 Americans' Birthdays Come Once in Four Years

Washington — Some 11,000 babies will be born in the United States Feb. 29 — the rarest day on the 1960 calendar.

The expected crop of leap year babies — based on census estimates — will join 118,000 other Americans whose birthday comes only once every four years.

Many may consider this a minor tragedy. The National Geographic society notes, however, that several famous people have been born on Feb. 29, including Ann Lee, founder of the Shaker sect, and the Italian opera composer, Gioacchino Rossini. At 72, Rossini celebrated what he termed his 18th birthday and facetiously announced that he planned to turn over a new leaf and abandon the frivolities of youth.

Miscalculations
Actually Rossini was a year younger by the calendar than he thought, because 1800 was not a leap year. W. S. Gilbert made a similar miscalculation in the "Pirates of Penzance," whose plot concerns a pirate's apprentice born on leap day.

The rule is that every year represented by a number divisible by 4 is a leap year, except those divisible by 100 but not 400. Thus 2000 will be a leap year, but 1800 and 1900 were not.

The calendar oddities arose because the earth does not go around the sun in an exact number of days. The ancient Egyptians calculated that it took about 365 1/4 days — a figure remarkably close to the modern estimate of 365 days, 5 hours, 48 minutes, and 45.5 seconds. Julius Caesar, in promulgating the Julian calendar in 45 B. C., assigned 365 days to normal years, with an extra day added to every fourth year.

Julius quite naturally added the odd day to February, which then was the last month of the year. The old Roman year began in March, which explains how September (seventh month), October (eighth month), November (ninth month), and December (tenth month) got their names.

At first Julius's calendar worked well enough. But by the 16th century, the calendar year had gained so much on the solar year that spring was coming in early March instead of on the March 21 equinox. Pope Gregory XIII (1502-1585) dropped 10 days from the year, decreeing that henceforth leap years should be omitted in all century years not divisible by 400.

Reforms Proposed
Even with this refinement, a drift of more than a week may occur by A. D. 10,000. A Presbyterian minister - astronomer suggested in 1956 that leap year be suspended until the year 2000 to allow the calendar to correct itself. To the relief of tradition's husband - seeking women, the proposal was not adopted.

The forecast for this year's leap year babies was geared by the census bureau to the current daily average — 11,000. For their future birthdays, infants arriving on the 29th will have a traditional recourse; they can adopt Feb. 28 or March 1 as their birthday in years without leap days. This custom has some legal sanction. An Act of Parliament passed during the reign of Henry VIII provided that persons born on Feb. 29 were entitled to regard Feb. 28 as their birthday anniversary in years other than leap years.

Viewers Show Concern Over Violence on TV

Thomas Gets Flood Of Letters After One-Night Survey

Hollywood — (A) — Judging from the mail, TV viewers are concerned about violence on the home screen.

A fortnight ago, I clocked the beatings, sluggings, mayhem and murder on the Friday night crime and western shows. It required perseverance to sit through three hours of blood-letting, but I managed. The findings: one murder every 16 minutes; with the slaughter rate increasing as the night grows older (the networks theorize that more violence is allowable when the kiddies toddle off to bed).

The survey brought as much mail as anything in this space for many months. Here are some of the samples:

"My compliments to you for 'slain, slugged, stabbed!' If critics across the country followed your example, TV might become a normal medium of entertainment and help curb the present abnormal amount of crime."

"Congratulations for having nerve enough to print what the majority of people think about our lousy TV pictures. No wonder we have juvenile delinquency in droves."

"We bought TV to keep our children home and entertained. They could learn no more crime in the streets. The banned quiz programs were at least entertaining and educational, even if fixed."

"Do the TV bigwigs ever stop to think what kind of a generation will arise after being reared on a steady diet of violence? Our youngsters see show after show in which human dignity and life itself is treated cheaply. Even though they realize these western and crime shows are fantasies, young people's constant exposure to violence is bound to affect them."

Just to show there are two sides to the issue, here are two dissenting opinions:

"I think your remarks are groundless, just as ridiculous as lipstick being banned because of coal tar dyes used in the coloring of them. Television is for entertainment and perhaps all who watch (violent) shows forget them as soon as they are over . . . if some choose to copy this violence, they should be in an institution to begin with. I know of no child who after watching a murder on TV will try to commit one himself. If children do harbor such thoughts, it only proves their homelife isn't healthy or they are unbalanced mentally . . ."

For my money critics are a lot of cynical, narrow-minded people who enjoy what power they have over ratings and programs. It would be a blessing if they were all sent to Siberia."

"Can't you take it with a grain of salt? They are just a story and nothing more. Have just one word to add—'Sissy.'"

Proving Ground For Comedians Looks Bleak

BY CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer

New York — (A) — Today's radio disc jockeys will be tomorrow's television comedians, says veteran comic Ken Murray.

"Vaudeville's dead, burlesque is dead, small-theatrical musical revues are dead," insists Murray, "and there's no place left except disc jockey shows on local radio where a young comic can practice and be bad."

Murray is one of the pioneers of television. After years in vaudeville he became one of TV's biggest comedy stars with a show of his own for three years.

He moved into producing, with a fat network contract but immediately got caught in the middle of one of those broadcasting reshuffles which left him with nothing much to do but collect his pay. Then he became an independent producer, and was busily turning out pilot films when his old friend, Maurice Chevalier, shamed him back into performing.

At any rate, Murray and Marie Wilson—once of "My Friend Irma"—built themselves an act, and now they are working about half of each year in the top night clubs of the country. They will turn up on Sunday night's Ed Sullivan show.

Ann Bancroft, guesting on the Perry Como show the other night, proved a good comedienne and—more important—a distinctive and engaging personality. Wholesome, outdoorsy Roy Rogers and Dale Evans take over the Dinah Shore hour again March 6.

Gentle Complaint

BY BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

Hollywood — (A) — A little more respect for the ailing theater, if you please, asks playwright William Inge.

Inge is here to oversee the local stage debut and the start of filming the "The Dark at the Top of the Stairs," as well as to visit Disneyland, of all places. I had expected he might issue a blast against the Broadway critics who recently torpedoed his first flop after four smash hits ("Come Back, Little Sheba," "Picnic," "Bus Stop," "Dark").

But no. The gentle-voiced midwesterner spoke plaintively, not in anger.

"I have no quarrel with the critics," he said. "I knew that 'A Loss of Roses' was not right. I didn't even read the reviews. It was painful enough for me to realize that the play had gone wrong; I didn't need the further punishment of reading about it."

"But I will say something about the critics: it amazes me how violent they get when a play is not a hit. They act as though it were a personal affront to them that such a presentation should be made."

Scene Rehearsals

"Everyone realizes that the theater is in bad condition. But you don't treat a sick child by beating her. I think a playwright who has set out to write a serious piece of work for the theater ought to be able to expect respect. Instead, I was treated as if I had spit on the floor."

What went wrong with "A Loss of Roses"? Inge said he had a basic difference with director Danny Mann.

"Man is fundamentally a film director," the playwright said. "He did all the rehearsals in small scenes and wouldn't let me see a full run-through until the last day. Then I realized things were wrong, but we were ready to open."

He said the play was cut "until it was synopsisized," "the curtain falling at 10:30 instead of the usual 11:15. Further, he realized Shirley Booth was miscast for the lead, and he could not rewrite for the role until she was replaced by Betty Field. By that time, the play was set to come to New York. He feels another month on the road could have saved it."

Inge still has faith in the play, which was bought by 20th Century-Fox. He may direct it himself in Dallas, if he can find two female stars to play it. Meanwhile, he keeps busy. He has written his first screen play, "Splendor in the Grass," which Elia Kazan will film this spring. He's mulling two plays. One concerns Hollywood; it would be the first of his works to take place outside the midwest.

Before you do anything else, make sure you fully provide for your family's basic financial needs. Your New York Life Agent can help!

Of all the investments you can make for your family's future, nothing will do for them what life insurance does. Immediately it guarantees your wife and children funds to help them support themselves if you should die. If you live, the same policy can build for you a comfortable retirement income. No wonder so many millions of men make life insurance the cornerstone of their financial plans.

Just make sure you have enough . . . enough to fully provide for your family's basic needs. The proper amount depends upon your standard of living, the number of your children, their ages, and so on. Your New York Life Agent is trained to help you figure how much insurance you should own. Ask him, too, for details on New York Life's modern Whole Life Policy. It offers $10,000 of protection, yet costs a man of 30 about 57 cents a day!

Kills Relatives Because of Scornful Words

Shenandoah, Pa. — (A) — "They talked about me . . . they said I was nuts . . . they won't bother me no more . . . I had a feeling I had to kill someone. . . ."

Police quoted impassive, 21-year-old Wayne Brown as saying in a confession he killed his grandfather and uncle Sunday because he resented their scornful comment.

Brown, released last Thursday from jail after serving a term for molesting girls, pleaded guilty to a general charge of murdering Frank Brown, the grandfather, and John Brown, 49, the uncle. The shooting occurred in the victim's home in nearby Lost Creek, a mining town in eastern Pennsylvania.

Officers quoted Brown as saying over the telephone immediately after the shooting: "I just shot two men. I dare you to come and get me."

Brown called 20 minutes later, police said, and reiterated the dare, this time identifying himself. He turned himself in at the state police barracks.

Color Macaroni Pieces, Then String on Wire for Necklace

BY CAPPY DICK

A very pretty necklace can be made by stringing pieces of macaroni that have been colored with crayons. You will need a package of 'ordinary macaroni, a package of sea-shell macaroni, your wax crayons, some fine spool wire, a tube of fast-drying model air.

Combining various shaped macaroni pieces makes pretty necklace.

With scissors cut 18 or 20 pieces of tube macaroni, each an inch long. Color these with your crayons, making a few sketchy lines along the length of each piece.

Select eight or nine perfectly formed pieces of sea-shell macaroni. Rub the wax crayons on each of these to make the ridges pink, green, blue or orange.

Cut eight or nine two-inch pieces of spool wire. Bend each piece at the middle to form a very small loop (Figure 1) which can be threaded on a string as in Figure 3. Form the ends into a second loop that will fit into the opening of a sea shell as in Figure 2. A dab of fast-drying glue will hold it firmly.

When a wire has been attached to each shell in this manner and the glue has dried, you are ready to string the necklace. Alternate the sea shells with the straight tubes, distributing the colors as attractively as possible. When all the sea shells have been strung, complete the necklace by stringing:

- EGG—a mendicant.
- SALT—volcanic rock.
- JAM—for shut-eye.
- CRACKER—b o o m boom.
- SOUP—suspicion.
- FISH—butt connection.
- FLOUR—thrive.
- CREAM—outburst.
- TEA—a gasser.
- RICE—whim.
- LAMB—climb.
- TOAST—spieler.

Answers

- Beggar.
- Basalt.
- Pajamas.
- Firecracker.
- Soupcon.
- Fish joint.
- Flourish.
- Scream.
- Steamer.
- Caprice.
- Clamber.
- Toastmaster.

enough tubes to go the rest of the way around the neck (Figure 4).

Food For Thought

Some item of food is contained in each of these answers. For example, if we give you the clue, "PIE—caught sight of," your answer will probably be SPIED, which contains the word PIE. See what kind of a menu you can compose with the following:

Look and Learn

BY A. C. GORDON

- When and by whom was the first airplane flight over the North Pole?
- Which is the more sensitive to impression, the human ear or the eye?
- How many men have been elected to the presidency of the United States before they were 50 years old?
- Are aliens residing in the United States required to pay federal income tax?

ANSWERS

- In 1926, by Richard E. Byrd.
- The eye is about 16 times more sensitive than the ear.
- Only six; Theodore Roosevelt, U. S. Grant, Grover Cleveland, Franklin Pierce, James K. Polk, and James Garfield.
- Yes.

Let us increase our vocabulary by mastering one word each day.

Today's word: insensate; wanting sensibility; destitute of sense. "Why do we put such stress on certain insensate pleasures?"

It's Odyssey Charlie Doing Puns That Turn to Greek and Homer Runs

BY CHARLES HOUSE
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

While this department is belaboring puns there is one which must not escape. It is the only one I know which is a perfect triple so — even though I fear it may make enemies for me—I must include it:

Three young men bought a large ranch. On it, one of the brothers raised beef, another raised pork and a third raised mutton. When they asked their mother to suggest a good name for the ranch, she offered "Famous". They did not understand the purpose of the title and demanded an explanation.

"It's perfectly descriptive of your ranch," she said. "It means 'where the sun's rays meet.'"

House

While I am endangering my social status, I must include such puns as that which proclaims that our laws are made incongruous, and that the average inhabitant of the American male is 2 a. m., and also that the new little automobiles are not so new in their economy because the Spanish of olden days could travel 3,000 miles on a galleon.

There also is a devilish story about a young couple who spent much of their time going to horror movies because they loved each shudder, and there is one about a man who spent most of his money on fortune tellers because he was a seersucker.

Peru, What a Pun!

There is a tale about a movie director in Peru who rescued a maiden from drowning in a lake. After he pulled her out of the water he noticed how beautiful she was and he had her acting even before the Inca was dry.

I know one, also, about the brothers Hans and Fritz who were mountain climbing with their mother. Fritz was just letting his mother down a sheer precipice by a rope when it broke. Their mother went hurtling down into the canyon.

Fritz shouted to his brother, "Look, Hans, no mom."

Circus Museum Shows Profit In First Year

Net Gain of $20,000 Realized In Short Season

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

Madison — The national circus museum opened by the State Historical society at Baraboo last summer may become the most profitable of the business enterprises of the organization.

Leslie Fishel, society superintendent, has reported that the museum returned a net profit of $20,000 during a short season last year. The exposition ran from July 1 to October, and grossed $55,000 in revenues.

Longer Season

With a longer season expected this year and with an upward revision of admissions fees, the enterprise will yield much more, the society head told Gov. Nelson and members of the state building commission as they authorized him to use some of last year's gain for the expansion of the land acreage at the museum site.

Located at the birth place of the famed Ringling brothers circus, the exhibit is a unique one in the country and has acquired priceless relics of the circus companies of generations ago. Built relatively near Wisconsin Dells, the exposition benefits from the tourist patronage of the heavily promoted Dells recreational region.

The museum this year will open on May 14. Adult admissions have been raised from 60 to 75 cents. The 15 cent children's fee will be continued, Fishel has announced.

Paperboard Output Rises, Orders Drop

U.S. mills last week made 329,793 tons of paperboard while operating at 96 per cent of capacity, the National Paperboard association said. This was 5,000 tons more than in the preceding week and 25,000 more than a year earlier.

New orders of 298,097 tons were down 7,000 from a week earlier but were about in line with a year earlier. The backlog of unfilled business dropped 26,000 tons from the preceding week to 441,000 tons. This was still 41,000 more than a year earlier.

Flooring Firm Buys 27,000 Acres of Timber

Potlatch Forests, Inc., Lewiston, has purchased a sawmill and 27,000 acres of timberland near Larendon, Ark., from Woods Lumber company, Memphis, Tenn. The cash purchase price was not announced. Lumber little ripple on the ocean which grew so large that one day it was fit to be tide.

Also, I know a story about a local chess club which met every day in the lobby of a hotel where members would play their games. There were so many of them and they brought no revenue to the club that at last the manager had the police take them away. He was just pulling his chess nuts out of the foyer.

A painter was decorating the side of a tall building when a brisk wind tipped the scaffold, the painter and all of the paints he was using. As he hurtled down past the 27th floor he was heard to say, "Well, at least I am going down with my colors flying."

In the days of long ago, puns were just as rife as they are today. One famed punster made the wild claim that he could make a pun on any subject.

Royally Now!

"Very well, then," said his associate, "let me see you make a pun on the king."

"The king," said the punster with dignity, "is not a subject."

Well known, perhaps is the tale of the little Dutch boy who put his finger in the hole in the dyke and by doing so saved hundreds of people from being drowned by flood waters.

When the boy returned home after spending so many hours at the job he started to scold him for his long absence.

"Please, mother," he said, "I have had a busy day at the orifice."

In the days of old when knights were bold, the best salesman of armour was none other than Sir Lancelot. He got the highest prices for his armour—four cents an ounce—because it was first class mail.

In closing, may I turn off the angry ones who seek to do me harm by quoting Oliver Wendell Holmes who once said, "a pun does not justify a blow in return."

WHERE YOUR MONEY GOES

With so many willing and important volunteers who help Red Cross in so many ways — with so much of their own personal time, you may wonder why Red Cross needs money. The Outagamie Chapter of Red Cross has a budget need of $34,800 for this year.

Here's how that money is used:

- 35% For Servicemen, Veterans and families
- 14.3% Disaster Preparedness and Assistance
- 5.4% Red Cross Blood Program — National
- 16% Safety Services and Nursing
- 4% Junior Red Cross
- 4% Community Services (Gray Ladies, Staff Aides)
- 5.4% Fund Raising Expense — Supplies
- 2.4% Public Information
- 2% International Services
- 11.5% Administrative Costs — Office
- 100% THIS IS WHAT IT COSTS RED CROSS TO KEEP DOING ITS REQUIRED JOB.

Providing any community service costs money — even if all but two of the people who actively help others are volunteers, whose time is given freely, without cost.

No program of this kind would be possible without so many willing volunteers — nor could Red Cross function without your annual membership contribution. This year, enroll your entire family in a joint family membership.

Decision in Appeal Due Within 10 Days

Board Has Three Courses of Action In Partika Case

A decision in the appeal of a discharged Outagamie county highway patrolman will be handed down sometime within the next 10 days by the 3-member civil service appeal board.

Final testimony was taken Saturday in a session which extended through the lunch hour into the early afternoon. The appeal was filed by Irving J. Partika, 31, route 2, Hortonville, discharged as a county patrolman Feb. 8. Fourteen charges were made against him by the county board's traffic police and radio committee.

The appeal board has three courses of action before it. It can uphold the dismissal action; reduce it and order a suspension, reduction in pay or demotion; or it can dismiss the action and order Partika's reinstatement.

Reluctant Witness

A reluctant witness, charges of inadequate training, and the worth of hearsay testimony were key factors in Saturday's session. The hearing had been continued from Feb. 18.

Partika was described by his attorney, Samuel Sigman, as a victim of conditions in the county police department. He said it was improper training that led to many of the charges.

Two former county patrolmen, Ira Dominowski, now Hortonville police chief and a county board member, and Russel Bowers, both testified to what they called inadequate training. Dominowski, a patrolman from Jan. 1, 1949, to Sept. 15, 1957, said he had asked many times that a training class be formed. He said he had accompanied ambulances and that he had been requested and ordered to do so. (One of the charges against Partika is that he escorted an ambulance "when you should have stayed... at the scene of the accident in order to control traffic.")

Standard Procedure

Dominowski also said it was standard procedure for patrolmen to check the newspapers before going on duty and that generally it was left up to the officer's judgment on taking measurements at an accident scene. He said an officer "can only be as good as he is trained."

Bowers supported Dominowski's testimony.

Both Sigman and Corporation Counsel Raymond P. Dohr agreed the lack of subpoena power hampered the hearing.

In his summation, Sigman called for the dismissal of all charges based on hearsay evidence. The others, he said, should be dismissed because lack of proper instruction was responsible. "It will be a dark day," he told the appeal board, "if you take away this man's livelihood on the basis of pure gossip."

Give Reasons

Dohr said the county had followed its ordinance in submitting the case. "We are directed only to give the reasons why we are taking the action," he told the board, "and I believe we've done that. We're only interested in the truth."

Also testifying Saturday were Patrick Heenan, chairman of the traffic police and radio committee, and Capt. Ronald Decker, chief of the county highway patrol.

Heenan outlined Partika's appearances before the committee and presented a general picture on how the charges against him (Partika) were received and formed.

Rev. DeBraal Dies After Heart Attack

Retired Minister of Medina Methodist Church Succumbs

The Rev. Daniel DeBraal, 66, of 1404 N. Drew street, a retired Methodist minister, died unexpectedly of a heart ailment at a service station in Kaukauna at 8:45 p.m. Sunday.

He was born May 20, 1893, in Sheboygan and lived in Appleton the last 38 years. He retired two years ago after being pastor of the Methodist church of Medina for 27 years. He served the Stephensville church for seven years and also churches in Bear Creek, Hortonville, Randolph, Lost Lake, Cortland, East Troy, Troy Center and Germantown.

Rev. Daniel DeBraal

The Rev. Dr. DeBraal was a graduate of Lawrence college and of Garret Theological seminary, Evanston, Ill. He was a World War I veteran.

Funeral services will be at 2 p.m. Wednesday at First Methodist church, with Dr. Ralph Taylor Alton and Rev. Stanford Strosahl, district superintendent of the Methodist church, officiating. Friends may call at the Wichmann Funeral home from 3 p.m. Tuesday until 9:30 a.m. Wednesday and then at the church.

Survivors include his widow, five daughters, Mrs. Arthur Engel, Madison, Mrs. Harold McGregor, Appleton, Mrs. Earl H. Kimball, Glendora, Calif., Mrs. Harold W. Arpke, Sheboygan Falls, and Miss Sally Jo DeBraal, Green Bay; three sons, Daniel, Jr., and James K., both of Appleton, and Robert J., Madison; one brother, John, Sheboygan; three sisters, Mrs. Con Van Strein, and Mrs. Ben Brooks, both of Sheboygan, and Mrs. Pearl Harris, Daggett, Mich.; and 11 grandchildren.

Hearing on Depot Facilities Awaits Fact Study

A hearing to show cause for issuing a temporary restraining order on operation of the North Western railroad Appleton Junction depot was adjourned this morning by Circuit Judge Andrew W. Parnell pending a stipulation of facts by railroad and state attorneys.

The hearing arose over industrial commission orders for installation of locker room, shower, heating and separate toilet facilities in the depot.

Parnell said the court is uncertain as to what conditions apply in the case and suggested Le Roy Dalton, assistant attorney general, and Roger Bessey of Milwaukee, the North Western attorney, go to the depot and see what has or has not been done.

"The issues in this case are not formulated as sensibly and directly as they should be or could be," the judge said.

Peabody Manor

BY MARY ELLEN DUCKLOW
Peabody Manor, the VNA-sponsored home for aged and retired citizens, will represent upon its completion the culmination of years of aspiration and work, of dreams and digging at details. With its doors open to its very first white-haired residents, it will symbolize the fulfilled ambition of a community that saw a need and did something about it.

That need is a great one. It is based on a changing society, a changing population, a changing life span. The VNA set about establishing that need more than four years ago. These are the facts upon which Peabody Manor will be built.

VNA's home committee wrote letters, visited homes for the aged — 25 of them. It conducted countless interviews, talked with experts in the field, both public and private, sent out questionnaires and evaluated the results. VNA members talked with old people and young people, doctors and ministers.

The consensus was inescapable. Appleton did and does need additional facilities for the care of its senior citizens.

People Live Longer

People live longer today — one out of every dozen Americans is 65 or older, and in 20

DOES GETTING UP NIGHTS MAKE YOU FEEL OLD

Thousands are now discovering how much stronger and better they can feel by combating ordinary kidney or bladder irritations. These irritations often occur after 35, and may make you tense and nervous from too frequent urinating or itching urination both day and night. Secondly, you may lose sleep and suffer from headaches, backache and feel old, tired, depressed, in such irritation. CYS-TRON usually brings fast, relaxing comfort by urinating, irritating, burning, acid urine and by giving analgesic pain relief. Safe for young or old. Get CYS-TRON at drugstore. You'll better feel.

This is the first of a series of articles on Peabody Manor, resident home for the retired to be built in Appleton under sponsorship of the Appleton Visiting Nurse association. Today officially opens Peabody Manor Week as proclaimed by Mayor Clarence A. Mitchell in view of the pressing need for "attractive, dignified housing facilities" for senior citizens and the fact that the VNA currently is conducting a $500,000 financial campaign to raise funds to help build a $750,000, 50-resident home which will be open to older citizens of Outagamie county, Neenah and Menasha.

ity that must be preserved and used.

A questionnaire sent to 63 Protestant and Catholic clergymen in Appleton, Neenah, Menasha, Little Chute, Kaukauna and Kimberly brought 41 replies. Thirty-nine of the 41 stated that

This Is What Peabody Manor, resident home for retired men and women, will look like when it's completed on W. Fifth and S. Locust street on land donated by the city of Appleton. The 50-resident home, to cost approximately $750,000, will be built by the Appleton Visiting Nurse association with funds from the George F. Peabody estate and an additional $500,000 currently being raised in an area-wide campaign. The plans include possible future expansion to service 100 residents.

the proposed home would meet an imperative need. The questionnaire revealed that the congregations representing represented an over-65 population of 3,650 persons, most of them who live in their own homes or are cared for by their families. Only 190 live in homes. The pastors agreed generally that older people do not resist going to live in homes — but that these senior citizens do object to going far — even 15 or 20 miles — away from home, families and the security of well-remembered neighborhoods.

One expert in the field predicts that in the next 15 years there will be a 41 per cent increase in the number of persons over 65 years. This represents an increase of 1,000,000 persons in the country every three years. Life expectancy now stands at 70 years. At the turn of the century it was 47 years. Statistics show that the Fox Cities population is growing faster than the national average — 20 per cent increase as compared with the national average of 11.2 per cent.

Population Records

In Wisconsin the number of persons over 65 represents 9 per cent of the population. In Outagamie county, social security records for 1958 showed 10,174 persons over 65 among the population of 93,500. Winnebago county records for the same year showed 11,217 persons over 65 among a population of 91,103.

What facilities currently exist in the area Peabody Manor will serve?

A state board of health survey in 1955 showed that 131 Outagamie county citizens over 65 lived outside the county for lack of facilities here. Currently, two wholly or partly tax-supported homes are in operation, the Appleton City home and the New London Golden Agers county home. Since then, Riverview tuberculosis sanatorium has become a dual purpose institution, also caring for the chronically ill aged. A number of small, privately owned homes for the chronically ill are in operation, some of which are below standards required by the state board.

Numberwise, then, the need is apparent. It's a matter of counting noses.

Need Is Real

Is there a need for this kind of home — a modern, beautifully designed home removed from the tension and hazard, the clutter and clank and the hurry and scramble of the business hub of the city, but close to churches and stores and theaters?

Is there a need for a home where elderly residents will live out their lives with dignity and in contemporary companionship, where life is geared to their pace and arranged to meet their needs, where the facilities are arranged to give them the greatest scope to make their

Causes of Food Poison Hazard in Warm Period

Chicago — The causes of food poisoning — a particular hazard in warm weather — have been outlined by the American Medical association.

The main cause of food poisoning is bacteria which contaminates the food by multiplying or forming a poisonous substance. When eaten, the food produces acute illness of short duration.

Food poisoning caused by special and unique contributions to the community?

The sponsors of Peabody Manor searched the institutions of the county and the state, the mountains of literature on the subject of geriatrics, and they searched their hearts. Peabody Manor is needed.

They asked themselves how they want to live at 65, and 70 and 80.

The need is real.

staphylococci bacteria is "the most common type encountered in the United States," the association says.

Warm Temperature

When the bacteria is present, only time and the correct temperature are needed to cause an outbreak. At a warm temperature food can become poisoned in five to seven hours in some cases. The foods usually involved in this type of poisoning are ham, cream-filled bakery goods, cheddar cheese, dry skim milk, poultry and potato salad.

The symptoms of staphylococci food poisoning — nausea, vomiting, diarrhea, acute prostration, and abdominal cramps — appear within a few hours after the food is consumed.

Another bacteria that can cause food poisoning is salmonella.

"Salmonellae are abundant in nature and are found most commonly in the intestines of poultry and swine," the article said.

Found in Animals

"They are present on the shell of eggs, and, when eggs are broken commercially, they find their way into frozen whole eggs, yolks, whites, and in dried egg products." The foods usually involved in salmonella poisoning are inadequately cooked eggs, products, poultry, or other foods. The symptoms it produces are abdominal pain, diarrhea, chills, fever, frequent vomiting and prostration.

One Fatal Type

Several other types of food poisoning can be caused by starch foods inadequately refrigerated and by poultry and meat products cooked and left unrefrigerated — at a warm temperature for several hours.

A rare and often fatal type of food poisoning is botulism. "In the United States the majority of outbreaks of botulism are related to the consumption of inadequately processed home-canned vegetables of low-acid content such as string beans, beets, and other vegetables," according to the association.

The symptoms are difficulty in swallowing, double vision, difficulty in speech, and difficulty in respiration, followed by death from paralysis of the muscles of respiration.

Here's Your Chance, Girls— Leap Year Comes but Once...

For Some Bachelors,

"Mayden Ladye of bothe highe and lowe estit shall hae liberte to bespeke ye man she likes."

BY CAROL RICHARDSON
Post-Crescent Society Editor

This old Scottish law dating back to 1288 may look outdated but its message is just as timely this leap year as in leap years of old.

Fox Cities bachelors, like those of earlier days, are mindful of the prerogative given young ladies once every four years and are expressing definite opinions on their chances of being caught during leap year.

"Maybe the girls take year seriously, but I don't!" said Don Boya, who at 31 is handsome, eligible and basketball coach at Lawrence college. He added that special leap year parties—where girls do the asking—are fine.

When asked what type of girl he would like to be pursued by he laughingly answered "some of those calendar girls wouldn't be bad." On a more serious note, however, he said he really doesn't know what kind of girl he prefers—"Maybe that's why I am a bachelor," Boya answered. "When I meet the right one, then I'll know."

The athletic coach said he hasn't time for too many activities outside his college duties, but he's an avid baseball fan and spends summer weekends in Chicago watching major league baseball. Don is native Appletonian and a graduate of Lawrence college.

Neenah Bachelor

Another 31-year-old bachelor, who works in the loan department of the First National bank of Neenah, Paul Gross says "Leap year is more tradition than reality, but some girls probably observe it."

"A girl should be independent, able to think for herself and not run home to mother with all her problems," Paul believes. He also prefers a girl who enjoys the outdoors and is healthy and active, "but she really should enjoy sports in her own right—not just because the fellows do," he pointed out.

To interest Paul a girl must also like to travel and to experiment with new foods and drinks.

Fred Heinemann, who works in the display advertising department of the Post-Crescent, agrees with the other bachelors that leap year is never taken very seriously. "But parties where the girls do the asking are good," he added.

A girl who is a good sport—personality-wise—sociable and enjoys outdoor sports, music and dancing is top on Fred's list of leap year dates.

"A sense of humor is always nice," he added "and she doesn't have to be TOO smart!"

The bachelor spends his time skiing in the winter and cruising on the Fox river and nearby lakes in warmer months.

"It's all right for the girls to do some chasing once every four years," is the opinion voiced by Outagamie county district attorney George Greisch. "It gives them an opportunity, too."

"A girl should like what a fellow likes and also know how to meet and be with people," George added. He also lists a nice personality and the ability to handle herself with poise on his list of requirements. "I think the old expression that beauty is only skin deep holds true," he said.

When he has free time from his duties at the courthouse, George referees basketball and football games and plays golf and softball. He also enjoys music.

"Slow Fellows"

A bachelor who wanted to know how leap year started in the first place is

Bill Bitter, assistant manager of the J. C. Penney store. "I always find it interesting," he said about the tradition. "It gives the girls a chance—also fellows who are a little slow."

Bill says he likes a good, sincere girl who would make a nice wife and adds—nothing flighty. "After all, you've got to live with her for the rest of your life." He enjoys golf, swimming and tennis and prefers a girl who can share these interests. "And I'm not a confirmed bachelor," he emphasized.

"Leap year? Sure, it's just wonderful," is the opinion of 27-year old Bill Merizon, a salesman for Modern Business Machines. "The girls can chase all they want, as long as they can't run as fast as I can." He says he would like to be pursued by a girl who is very pretty, has a good figure, is a good athlete—with lots of money.

"I think I speak for most guys when I say that I don't mind being chased as long as I don't feel that I am," Bill said. "If girls like soft music, a fireplace and martinis, they're fine."

Bill likes skiing, water skiing, sailing and pretty girls—"just what most red-blooded American boys like," he adds. And he lists his phone number as Pa. 2-0841, commenting that any interested girls may telephone.

Likes Girls

"I sure like the girls and I hope they're here to stay," says Dan Ornstein, a salesman in Prange's men's department. He also says he hasn't taken leap year seriously yet, "and I've been through quite a few of them!"

Dan explains his status with "I guess I've just had it too good too long—the other life is probably the better one and I'll weaken someday."

"I like a girl with a real nice personality and prefer an all-around girl," explained the bachelor who is on the board of directors of the Fox Cities Foxes, a member of the Elks club and American Legion. Dan also enjoys spectator sports and swims in the summer.

There they are, girls, just a few of the bachelors who are waiting to be chased in 1960!

The Rev. Henry Scholten officiated at the double ring ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Roger Anvelink, Navarino, were the couple's attendants.

After the ceremony a dinner was served at the Black Creek Community hall, which also was the setting for the afternoon reception.

The former Miss Minischmidt attended Seymour Union High school. Her husband is employed at the Oscar J. Boldt Construction Company, Inc., Appleton.

The newlyweds will reside at route 1, Black Creek.

Cool Irons Cause Sticky Starch

Are you bothered with your iron sticking to starch? There are reasons for this. Excessive starching, excessive sprinkling or too cool an iron can cause starch to stick to the iron. Fabric should be just damp when ironed. Starch and water should be accurately measured each time and an iron that is too cool will cause slow ironing and cause sticking.

Newly Engaged Princess Snaps Fingers at Traditions Early

BY NORMA GAUHN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

A workaday world has breathed a collective sigh of delight: its favorite princess is engaged to be married.

The betrothal of Britain's Princess Margaret Rose to court photographer Antony Armstrong-Jones was announced Friday by Queen Elizabeth, the queen mother. The news was greeted with rejoicing by a generation that seats be priced at 7 shillings 6 pence ($1.04). When her sister protested this was too much, Margaret quipped: "They'll pay to see us."

From childhood on, Princess Margaret lived the fishbowl life of royalty, but she early began to assert her strong individuality. Fun-loving and lively, she seemed to snap her fingers at tradition. This is the first of two articles on the newly-betrothed princess.

Never shy of the opposite sex, Margaret Rose got along easily with the young lieutenants who were invited to tea and the handsome guards officers stationed at the castle.

By the time she was 16, Mayfair matchmakers were gossiping about romance for the sparkling princess.

Her name was first linked romantically with young King Mihai of Romania, who had loaned her his program at a theater party. Mihai now lives in England as a gentleman farmer with his wife and three daughters.

It was the typical ending for most of the romantic tales involving the pretty princesses. A columnist who added up the list of Margaret's rumored suitors got a grand total of 50 by the time she was 25.

(Tomorrow: The rocky road to romance.)

has watched Margaret grow from a lively, unpredictable child into beautiful, vivacious womanhood.

Queen Elizabeth's younger sister, unwilling to be bound completely by stuffy court regulation, has always lived a gay life of her own. Some critics labeled her a playgirl for her partying and love of jazz and good times.

But it was four years ago that rigid royal tradition forbade her her first great love: Peter Townsend, a divorced man she had known since her teens.

Margaret Rose, always a religious girl, headed the Church of England, which opposes remarriage of divorced persons.

Since she renounced Townsend—who has since married again—there had been a swirl of speculation over future romance for the blue-eyed princess. And many recalled an ancient legend attending her birth in Glamis castle, Scotland, on Aug. 21, 1930.

Castle's Legend

The legend of Glamis castle was that any girl born there would be married before she turned 21—or else become a spinster. Betrothed at 29, Margaret Rose is defying the tradition.

"My first memory," the princess once said, "is half-falling out of my pram (baby carriage). A great to-do. I imagine I must have wanted to be noticed."

Ever since, she has been creating "great to-dos" and has never failed to command attention.

The Duke and Duchess of York had hoped their new baby would be a son and heir. They already had a 4-year-old daughter, Elizabeth—nicknamed "Lilibet."

The little princesses were brought up by their shy father in the quiet manner of the daughters of an English country squire. But a royal romance changed their lives.

The abdication of the girl's uncle, Edward VIII, for the love of American divorcee Wallis Simpson placed their father on the throne as George VI.

Sisters' Differences

The education of Lilibet as heiress presumptive thereafter was directed toward the crown she subsequently inherited as Queen Elizabeth II. And it served to point up the sisters' sharp difference in temperament.

Elizabeth was reserved and somewhat retiring, always conscious of her dignity in the manner of her grandmother, the dowager Queen Mary. Margaret was known as the mischievous one with a vivid imagination.

Margaret was only 5 at the death of her grandfather, King George V. But even then her sentimental emotion was apparent.

"Grandpa is in heaven now," she said, "and I am sure God finds him very useful."

Her reaction to the abdication of beloved Uncle David was typical. Told that her father was now king, she said: "Bother, just when I learned to write Margaret Rose of York. Now I am nothing."

Shows Quick Wit

Margaret and Elizabeth spent the World War II years at Windsor castle. They appeared in a pantomime for charity, and Margaret, then 13, showed her quick wit. She suggested the front row

Cue Bid Substitute for Blackwood Convention

BY ALFRED SHEINWOLD
U.S. Masters Team Champion

Practically everybody knows how to use the Blackwood convention. You bid four notrump, and your partner's reply tells you how many aces he holds.

Only the very best players know how to refrain from using Blackwood. Instead of bidding four notrump you bid a suit, and your partner's reply tells you how he feels about his hand. He may even indicate that he has the ace of a particular suit.

"Why bother?" you may ask. "Why should you bid one suit after another when it's so much simpler to bid four notrump and get the answer all at once?"

That would be fine if you could always pick the best final contract after hearing about your partner's response to four notrump. Hands aren't always as simple as that.

Doubletons, Voids

Sometimes, for example, you have a worthless doubleton in an unbid suit. It doesn't help you to know about your partner's aces. You may be cold for a small slam if your partner has the king or a singleton in your weak suit; but his Blackwood response won't tell you this. It's equally possible that he also has two losers in that suit, and that the slam is unmakeable.

Another problem arises when you have a void suit. If your partner has the right ace, you have a slam; if he has the ace of your void suit, however, the slam is unmakeable. You don't want to know how many aces your partner has, but which aces they are.

A cue bid is made, as a rule, after the partner has agreed on a trump suit and has also agreed to go on to game. The most typical position is after a double raise. You open with one spade, and your partner raises to three spades.

Meaning of Cue

A bid of a new suit in this situation says: "Partner, I am interested in a slam. This is the cheapest ace I can show. What is your feeling about a slam, and what have you to show?"

The partner denies interest in a slam by returning to the agreed trump suit. He would do this if he has minimum values for his bidding up to that point. But the responder shows interest in a slam by bidding a new suit to show an ace of his own, or by making some other forward-going bid.

Sometimes a player makes one cue bid and leaves the rest up to his partner. This would indicate very mild interest in a slam.

Sometimes a player shows considerable slam interest by continuing with cue bids even after his partner has declined to cooperate.

The cue bidding method allows both players to use their judgment. It is not a matter of making an automatic bid and getting an automatic response.

Contract Choice

Sometimes you can make a slam from one side of the table, but not from the other. In the most typical case you have the guarded king in one hand, and a weak doubleton in the other hand.

If the hand with the king becomes the dummy, the opening lead may come right through that king. But if the hand with the king becomes the declarer, the king cannot be led through immediately. Declarer has the chance to develop his other suits.

Cue bidding will sometimes enable the partnership to choose the right contract and thus put the correct hand as dummy.

The first three bids are routine. South opens with one club because he is too strong for one notrump; moreover the 5-4-2-2 distribution is poor for notrump. North responds in his strong major suit, and South raises to three. The jump raise shows good four-card support and about 19 points in support. South has 18 points in high cards and may count 1 point for each of the doubletons.

North is now interested in a slam. He has 16 points and knows that South has about 19 points. The total is enough for a slam, but there are two problems; controls and choice of contract.

There is no slam if South is unable to control diamonds. That is, South must have the ace or king of diamonds; or he must have a singleton or void in diamonds. South might have Q-J instead of K-J of diamonds, for example, and the slam would be unmakeable.

4-Club Bid

There is no problem about choosing the contract if South has the ace of diamonds or a singleton or void. There is a problem if South's diamond control is the king.

The Blackwood convention would not solve these delicate problems for North. Instead, therefore, North bids four clubs.

This shows help for clubs and an interest in slam. If North were interested solely in game at spades he would bid four spades and keep quiet about his club support.

South signs off by bidding four spades. South has no ace to show at a cheap level, and

Paris Designers Unveil 1960 Styles

BY NADEANE WALKER

Paris — Paris fashion designers today lifted the wraps from their new spring creations, to permit publication of the first 1960 high fashion photos.

Buyers and manufacturers have had a month to exploit the new styles before copyists get a chance to make what they can of pictures and sketches.

The public can now take its choice between Dior's somewhat shapeless "silhouette of tomorrow," Nina Ricci's swirling gypsy line, Heim's conical Eiffel tower, Balmain's tubelike Corinthian column, Lanvin - Castille's "free and easy" fashions, or half a dozen others.

The "free and easy" claim and a hem length that just covers the knees, incidentally, are the two things that all the major fashion collections have in common this season.

The waistline wanders from normal to low to high, jackets are long, or short, or medium, and the new colors make up a whole spectrum—white, coral pinks, violets, blues, yellows, pale green, beige, grey, navy, and black and white combinations. Shallow scoops and bateau necklines are winners, and sleeveless dresses are as common as crocuses in spring.

Floral Print

Hazy silk prints, mostly floral, are out in front, with a modest following of polka dots and big pale plaids. Crepes, shantung, chiffon, mat satin, organdy, lace and smooth wools fill in the fabrics picture.

Nothing the designers brought out could be described as revolutionary. Even Saint-Laurent's "silhouette of tomorrow," as it was described in a press release passed out just before the opening, didn't keep the fashion crowd sitting on the edge of its chair for long. Echoes of yesterday were still there, to bring back memories of the trapeze, sack and chemise.

What could be less original than the small - waisted, flaring skirted pleated princess style which is the basis of Ricci's 1960 gypsy? But by a sort of slight-of-seam, designer Cray's creations on a familiar theme managed to look fresh as a daisy and extremely attractive.

Skiers Must Give Skin Extra Care

Every skier is aware that he must give his equipment the best of care. Boots must be kept in condition, skis well waxed for smooth gliding. Certainly the same rule of special care should hold true for one's complexion as well. Hazards of the trail include windburn, snow glare and sun burn.

Elizabeth Arden suggests that every skier follow a few easy rules of protection to be sure that the benefits of an outdoor weekend are not offset by damage to the skin.

Most important preparation to pack is sun cream, first adopted as a ski essential by instructors in the Swiss Alps. It encourages a tan while screening burning rays and glare, gives the skin a glowing, healthy look even for the first day on the slopes. Both men and women find it ideal.

The second necessity is a multipurpose salve, healing to cracked or chapped lips, abrasions and other surface irritations. Sun or wind burn is soothed overnight. Many skiers find it wise to take a tube along with them on the trail.

Evening care should definitely include cleansing by cream and lotion. Other methods are drying, make the face more vulnerable to the wintry air. Even a young girl, who might not always use a night cream, would be wise to apply a bland moisturizing cream.

Men, too, should take extra precaution. Wind and sun are just as brutal to them, yet just as often a man will ignore care until the damage is done. Men's face cream offers a soothing way to overcome dryness and lip pomade should be as indispensable as a toothbrush.

Daughter Feels Men Can't See Soul Because of Prominent Nose

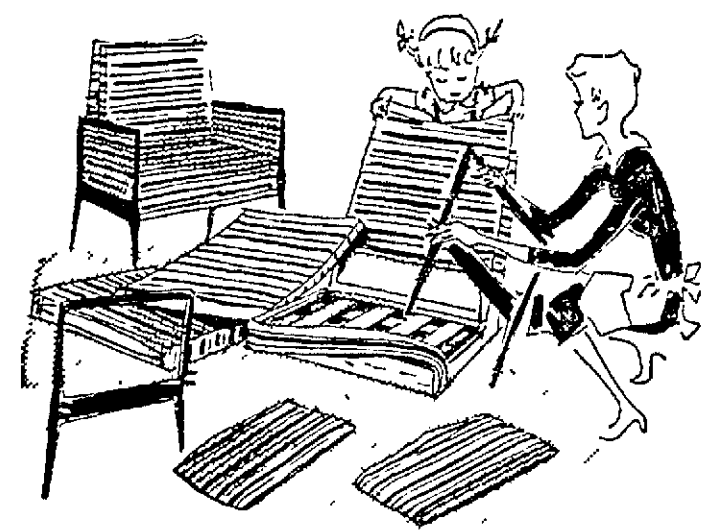

BY ANN LANDERS
DEAR ANN LANDERS: Can you pound some sense into my daughter's head? She's 24 and behaving like a 10-year-old child. First let me tell you that Hortense is a nice looking girl. She has the ridiculous idea that she should have her nose Ann Landers made over. I admit her nose is not perfect. It's a bit prominent, but it has lots of character. Hortense thinks a nose operation would improve her looks and make her more attractive to men. I say any man worth having would look right past her nose into her beautiful soul. She has saved money for two years to pay for this operation. She wants to make an appointment for next month. Please say I'm right to put my foot down. — Waiting to Hear

Dear Waiting: You have no right to put your foot down on your 24-year-old daughter's nose. She's not a child and apparently she thought this matter over carefully before making a decision. It may well be that Hortense has a beautiful soul, and when the right man comes along he'll recognize it. But maybe if the nose were out of the way he could see the soul better. It's not what you think about her nose, but how she feels that counts. Often after this type of surgery the personality flowers, merely because the individual has more confidence. Give Hortense your blessings. She may win by a nose.

DEAR ANN: My husband insists he can still be friends with his former sweetheart without it affecting our life together. I don't agree. Recently he went overseas with the army. He wrote that he sent his "old friend" a $5 gift to pay off a bet he "kinda owed her."

Take-Apart Chair Solves Problems

New furniture design is full of ideas for solving practical problems. The problem of how to clean upholstery fabrics thoroughly, for example, is tackled by this chair which recent spring preview shows introduced — it can be taken apart for the complete removal of all fabrics. And the difficulty of seat repair is greatly simplified by rubber webbing supports which are so easily replaced.

As the sketch shows, the frames which combine arms and legs detach from the frame which combines the seat deck and the back. Once the three frame parts are separated, side panels remove from the arms, and covers on these panels unzip and slip off as easily as the covers on the separate seat and back cushions. The cover on the back frame lifts off and the strip of fabric on the deck front detaches. Thus all the fabric can be cleaned off the furniture extra efficiently, with no sacrifice of fit to the trim foam rubber filling.

Mrs. F.C. "The house we're about to move into has a fireplace that is faced with gray stone, but we can tell it's gray only because the many coats of paint on it are flaking off in several places. Would it be possible to remove the paint entirely to leave just the natural stone again? Or must I be satisfied with new flat paint that would be so much better than the present ugly, shiny enamel?"

Since the paint is so thick and is flaking, at least some of it should be removed. Experiment to see how much you want to remove — try remover, probably several applications, on a limited area to discover how nearly the stone can be restored to its original appearance, and how much work it is to do it. Most stones absorb some paint, so that even with great effort and the best methods, the surface is never the same again after painting, but it's possible to create handsome effects with the stone showing through thin paint. If you decide not to attempt to uncover the stone, get rid of enough of the enamel so that the new paint will adhere smoothly and flaking stops.

Mrs. J.R.M. "We recently replaced our old lavatory with a new one that is built into a light green cabinet. I chose the light green because the wall and floor tiles are light cream color and I thought I'd like a cream and green scheme, but I'm disappointed in the effect. Should I paint the upper walls to match the cabinet? What else do you suggest to improve the scheme?"

Lively accent color will do more for the bathroom than green for the upper walls, which will only cut the walls in two. Choose a wallpaper with a cream background and both the matching green and a livelier, deeper green in a light and airy pattern, and any other color or colors the pattern includes will cue matching towels, mats and rugs.

Mr. and Mrs. George Carpenter Couple Celebrates Golden Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. George Carpenter, Weyauwega, observed their golden wedding anniversary at a dinner and reception Feb. 21 at the Gerold Opera house in Weyauwega. The former Miss Martha Fandrey and George Carpenter were married Feb. 24, 1910, at the parsonage of St. Peter Evangelical Lutheran church, Weyauwega, by the Rev. J. G. Oehlert. Edward Carpenter and Mrs. Albert Domke, Chicago, were the couple's attendants. Carpenter formerly was owner of a Weyauwega meat market. He retired in 1955.

In Good Taste
This Friend Displayed Lack of Tact
BY EMILY POST
Dear Mrs. Post: Isn't it the height of bad manners, when visiting at the house of a friend, to call the hostess' attention to the fact that there are cobwebs hanging from the living room? This happened to me recently and I was very much upset over it. I am aware of the fact that the cobwebs shouldn't have been there in the first place, but I can only say in my own defense that my house was thoroughly cleaned the day before, but unfortunately I happen to have the type of heating system that seems to produce an unusual amount of webs. The friend who called them to my attention is a friend of long standing, but even so, isn't there a point beyond which even a very old friend should not venture?

Answer: The very fact that you were upset proves the tactlessness and even bad manners of the friend who called your attention to the cobwebs.
Seating in Theater
Dear Mrs. Post: Will you please advise the correct seating in a theater when a couple have a young lady guest with them? Heretofore, we have allowed our guest to precede us to her seat, then I followed, then my husband. I have been told that our guest should be seated in the center. Is this true, and if so, wouldn't it be discourteous of me to enter the row before her?

Answer: You should precede your guest saying, "I'll go first so that you can sit between us."

16-Year-Old Babysitter Confronts Her Attacker

Post-Crescent News Service

Green Bay—A calm 16-year-old babysitter today confronted the youth who raped her and identified him in Brown county's municipal court—cleared of spectators for her testimony. David S. Spanbauer, 19, Oshkosh, pleaded guilty to 10 crimes ranging from rape to theft in four Wisconsin counties when he was arraigned in municipal court this morning. The charges included rape of a 16-year-old babysitter, armed robbery and conduct regardless of human life in attacks at the Alton Cardinal home, Green Bay, Jan. 12; attempted rape of a 12-year-old babysitter at Appleton the same night as the attacks here, burglary, armed robbery and burglary while armed in Appleton, and an Appleton theft; burglary of a Neenah home Jan. 3; armed burglary in Wauwatosa Feb. 1.

Girl Testifies
The first witness this morning was the 16-year-old babysitter who was assaulted and robbed of $16 at the Cardinal home. The courtroom was cleared for her testimony.

She testified that she was confronted by a young man with white mask over his face, heavy boots and, she thought, dark hair after she had heard a noise in the bushes outside the Cardinal home. Then, she said, she heard a crashing sound but didn't know what it was.

She testified she became so frightened she became frozen at the piano, and "the next thing I know I was screaming and my hands were in the air and I was looking down the barrel of a gun."

She said the man asked where the money was. She got her purse containing $16 and he took it from her. Then, she said, she was pushed into a bedroom where the man looked for more money.

The man asked her where the knives were located.

"I went to the kitchen and got a butcher knife and handed it to him," she said. "He had this gun on me all the time. He then said, 'Let's go back to the bedroom.' She said she obeyed.

Spanbauer, she testified, bound her to the bed with twine. The girl exhibited scars on her wrists where she had been bound tightly and said she had similar scars on one ankle. After she was bound, she said, "he started cutting my clothes off." The rape followed. The girl said she couldn't struggle because she was tied so tightly.

The girl said she was worried about the Cardinal's small son who was sleeping in another bedroom. Spanbauer, she said, told her that he would not hurt the boy. The girl could not estimate the extent of the damage.

Two Policemen Promoted to Desk Sergeant and Detective

Promotions of two Appleton policemen have been announced by Chief Walter J. Hendricks.

John M. Van Bommel, 34, 1807 N. Bennett street, a motorcycle patrolman and a member of the department since Feb. 22, 1947, was appointed desk sergeant.

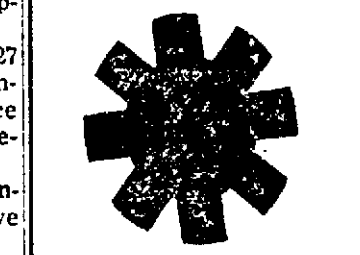

Jerome A. Kavaney, 36, 1527 N. Gracefield avenue, a member of the department since Dec. 31, 1947, was named a detective.

The promotions, Chief Hendricks said, are effective March 1.

Van Bommel is a widower and has three children and is a graduate of Appleton High school. He served in the navy for 3½ years.

Kavaney, a 1942 graduate of Appleton High school, has been serving in the detective division. He is married and has four children. He is an air force veteran who served in Italy.

Chief Hendricks said he currently is conducting interviews to fill 12 posts on the force. Thirty-one men wrote the examination. He said he hoped to have the new patrolmen on duty by April 1.

32 Elect Delegates for Kennedy Primary Vote

Small Turnout at Green Bay Made Up Of Manitowoc, Brown County Members

Post-Crescent News Service
Green Bay—Only 32 Eighth district backers of Sen. John Kennedy, most of them from Brown and Manitowoc counties, were present Saturday night to elect district delegates for the presidential primary ballot and to hear Atty. Gen. John Reynolds lecture on the importance of the Kennedy candidacy to state Democrats.

The slim attendance at the district "convention" at the YMCA compared with 125 who were present in a snow storm a week ago to elect district delegates for Sen. Hubert Humphrey. But Humphrey was present for this session, and Kennedy backers can point to the more than 1,500 who showed up for a reception for Kennedy in Green Bay Feb. 18.

Repeated View
Reynolds, who had addressed a similar district meeting at Ashland in the afternoon, repeated his view that a ticket headed by Kennedy next fall would be the biggest help to state Democrats. He said it could mean winning of five or six state senate seats and two or three congressional seats. Only Kennedy and Adlai Stevenson qualify as a candidate with a national reputation needed to run against Vice-President Richard Nixon, he said.

The meeting elected five district delegates who will have one-half vote each at the national convention if Kennedy wins in the Eighth District and named Reynolds as a delegate at large. Reynolds will be a delegate if Kennedy wins in the state-wide popular vote.

recommendation to become an alternate to the convention. Jerome Reinke, Kewaunee, a state board of tax appeals member, was nominated but withdrew. Results of the voting were not made public.

Support of Seaway
Reynolds pointed to Kennedy's support of the St. Lawrence seaway as a demonstration of Kennedy's "courage and the dictates of his conscience" against sectional political pressure. Kennedy was the first member of congress from Massachusetts to support the seaway, Reynolds said.

The Seventh district Humphrey candidates named at Wisconsin Rapids were Clarence W. Mitten, Sr., of Marshfield, Ed Gilbertson of Wisconsin Rapids, Mrs. Ethel McMurray of Stevens Point, George Borchardt of Waupaca and Ronald Moss of Appleton.

Amherst Man Pays $50 For Disorderly Conduct

Waupaca—Marvin R. Harris, 39, route 1, Amherst, was fined $50 Saturday when he pleaded guilty of disorderly conduct before Justice George Whalen.

Harris was arrested by Undersheriff Jack Aigiers at the Wagon Wheel restaurant, Chady's corners, Waupaca, after the Amherst man threw a sugar container and broke a coffee pot at the restaurant.

File Papers for 30 Nixon Delegates

Mrs. John C. Stevens, Appleton, Green Bay Man on List

Madison — Supporters of Vice President Richard Nixon today filed with the Wisconsin secretary of state a slate of 30 national Republican convention delegate candidates to run in the April presidential primary election. Included are Colburn Cherney, Green Bay, and Mrs. John C. Stevens, Appleton, as delegates in the Eighth congressional district.

Harvey V. Higley of Marinette, chairman of the Wisconsin-Nixon campaign committee, announced that Rep. John W. Byrnes of Green Bay will be one of 10 candidates for the position of delegate-at-large. There are 20 district candidates.

Sixth District
Sixth district delegates will be Richard Larson of West Bend, state chairman of Young Republicans, and Rufus K. Schriber of Oshkosh, chairman of the Republican state finance committee.

In the Seventh congressional district Mrs. Walter Wefel, of Wisconsin Rapids, and W. A. Steffke, Wausau, businessman and former trucking firm executive, will run under the Nixon banner.

The Nixon delegate slate is expected to be unopposed for the right to go to Chicago next July to vote for the nomination of the vice president for president.

"We believe we have a very strong and representative slate of delegates who will be proud to cast Wisconsin's vote for Mr. Nixon at the Republican convention next summer," Higley said.

One Vote Each
Unlike the Democrats, the Republicans have arranged that each of their Wisconsin delegates will have one convention vote. A larger Democratic delegation will go to the Democratic national convention in Los Angeles in July voting one-half vote each.

Other prominent Republicans who were chosen for the Nixon slate at large slate, include:

Glen R. Davis, Waukesha, former Second district congressman.

Warren P. Knowles, New Richmond, former Wisconsin lieutenant governor.

Walter J. Kohler, Sheboygan, former governor.

Melvin R. Laird, Marshfield, Seventh district congressman.

Frank E. Pazer, Oakfield, farmer and president of the Wisconsin state senate.

Mrs. Glen Wise, Madison, former Wisconsin secretary of state.

Everett Yerly, LaCrosse businessman and chairman of the Republican statutory committee.

Among the widely-known district delegate candidates will be David J. Blanchard, Rock county representative and 1959 assembly Republican floor leader; Paul J. Rogan, of Brookfield, former Republican leader in the legislature and former state insurance commissioner; Jack B. Olson, Wisconsin Dells, a candidate for the Republican nomination for governor, and Sen. Robert Travis, Platteville, leader of the Republican state senate majority.

Neenah Chapter of Red Cross Opens Drive for $14,000

Outagamie County Volunteer Worker Speaks at Kick-Off

Neenah — The drive to raise $14,000 for the Neenah Red Cross chapter got underway with a breakfast at the Neenah club this morning as Phil Stone, general chairman for the drive, and Mrs. Don Morrissey, Outagamie county chapter volunteer-field consultant, outlined activities of Red Cross on a local and national basis.

Stone pointed out letters were being sent to 6,500 Neenah persons outlining what the Neenah Red Cross chapter has done during the last year. This includes collecting 621 pints of blood for which the Red Cross pays $6.50 a pint for processing.

A total of 1,330 hours were given by volunteer workers in the blood bank program while 14,000 hours of instruction were given under the Red Cross sponsored swimming, life saving and boat safety programs. He told also of the aid to servicemen and their families and the many hours spent at state and county hospitals by the Red Cross Grey Ladies and Grey Men.

Lauds Volunteers
Mrs. Morrissey asked the workers to think of what things would be like if there was no Red Cross organization. The volunteer worker is the heart of the program and without adequate volunteer help the Red Cross work could not exist. "They transform Red Cross from an ideal to a tangible proof of national and international community service."

She called attention to a downward trend in support of the Red Cross which must be reversed if the services are to continue. The amount of money that would have to be paid out by families of persons who receive the Red Cross blood can be measured in dollars and cents, she said as she listed that value at about $16,250 for the approximately 650 pints collected locally last year.

But if that blood were not available, if there was no place where blood could readily be obtained or if the family could not afford to purchase blood at $25 a pint, you would have factors which cannot be measured in dollars and cents.

If there was no water safety program to teach children how to swim or to certify life guards, what would be done, she asked. She cited an Appleton fireman who recently saved a baby's life by mouth-to-mouth breathing he had learned in a Red Cross first aid course. "Can you measure that in dollars and cents?" Mrs. Morrissey asked.

Grey Ladies Program
She also stressed the work of the Red Cross Grey Ladies and Grey Men in giving patients in state and county mental hospitals a contact with the outside world and a new purpose in life as another service that cannot be measured in dollars and cents.

The disaster activities which cost the Red Cross $30 million last year was another activity aided by the local chapter drives. In the recent Colfax, Wis., tornado the Red Cross spent $250,000. In the flood disasters on the east coast several years ago the Russian Red Cross gave $40,000 in assistance, she mentioned.

She told of work with servicemen and their families in cases of emergencies and also spoke of the operations of the International Red Cross which had secured the release of five American airmen jailed in a satellite country when their plane was forced down after the government had been unable to obtain their release.

Tuberculosis Topic For Medical Society

Oshkosh — A panel of five physicians will present a program on tuberculosis at the Winnebago County Medical Society's meeting at the Hotel Athearn here at 6:30 p.m. Thursday.

Workman Cuts Hand

Neenah — Garland Smith, 729 Paris street, Menasha, was taken in the Neenah ambulance to Theda Clark hospital at 10:30 this morning after he cut his hand seriously while at work at the Kimberly-Clark plant of Kimberly-Clark corporation.

Menasha's Public School faculty, administrators and board of education Saturday heard final advice from two Northwestern university professors on improvement of the local curriculum after its intensive audit. During a break, Dr. John Lee, center, gestured while chatting with Norbert Brunner, Jefferson school principal. Seated at right is Dr. Jack Childress, the other co-director of the study. Standing, from left, are Mrs. Milton Gaertner, board of education member; Miss Edythe Sanderman, elementary supervisor; and M. J. Gegan, superintendent of schools.

Set Time Limit For Curriculum Changes, Advice

Northwestern Professors Give Final Report on School Survey

Menasha — Set up a time schedule for making changes in the public school system's educational program and establish priorities to upgrade the school district, two Northwestern university education department professors advised Saturday.

They summed up the survey of the Menasha curriculum for which backward information was gathered last spring. Speaking Saturday were the survey's two directors, Drs. Jack Childress and John Lee.

The board of education, administration, faculty and PTA groups attended the all-day session in the high school. Dr. Lee offered some additional remarks not touched on in the 188-page report received by the schools last fall, besides setting priorities (necessary because of available money and teachers' and administrators' time to work out their ideas).

"Set Time Limit"
The administrative setup in the schools should be altered somewhat so Menasha grade schools and the junior high each would have their own full time principals. Then, Lee added, "Charge each with the responsibility of developing curriculum in each school and set a time limit."

(These suggestions were Lee's own, more extensive than the survey report recommends. The report advocates two full time grade principals, each responsible for two schools.)

For a third step, coordinate what is recommended by the four grade principals and make sure they fulfill their responsibilities, he advised the board and administration. The final step is for the

4 Hospitalized In Weekend Falls

Neenah — Four persons were hospitalized over the weekend as the result of falls at home, on sidewalks or in sports events.

Peter Lohr, 11, 667 Chestnut street, received a fractured right leg while skiing and was admitted to Theda Clark hospital at 4:55 p.m. Sunday. He is in good condition today.

Catherine Reubold, 13, 937 Marquette street, Menasha, received a head injury while tobogganing and was admitted to the hospital at 12:30 p.m. Saturday. She also was listed as in good condition.

Mrs. Jane Ashmead, 777 Oak street, injured her elbow in a fall at her home and was admitted to the hospital at 4:30 p.m. Saturday.

A fractured wrist was received by Mrs. Pauline Nelson, 401 E. Columbian avenue, in a fall on ice while returning home from church. She was admitted to the hospital at 9:45 a.m. Sunday.

Introduce Four New Cubs at Pack Dinner

Neenah — Four new members were introduced and five others received awards at the annual blue and gold dinner of Cub Scout pack 54, St. Paul Lutheran church.

Jean Berken entertained with her ventriloquist act and movies of a western Scout trip were shown.

Neenah — Average earnings of Menasha production workers were listed at $106.63 a week in 1959 while those for Neenah were $99.84 in statistical date distributed today by the Neenah-Menasha Chamber of Commerce in its monthly bulletin. The figures were obtained from the state industrial commission.

The Neenah figures showed a steady increase from the $62.79 average listed for 1951 while the Menasha wages took a jump from the $68.31 recorded for 1950. The 1958 figures gave Menasha workers an average of $100.18 and those in Neenah $96.15 as their average.

Postal receipts for Menasha have climbed from $162,192 in 1945 to $686,353 for 1959 while those for Neenah went from $134,835 to $483,768 in the same period. Menasha's post-given as $99.84 in statistical date distributed today by the Neenah-Menasha Chamber of Commerce in its monthly bulletin. The figures were obtained from the state industrial commission.

Neenah has 5,803 electrical customers and 5,169 water customers and Menasha has 4,791 electrical customers and 3,770 water customers.

Bonded indebtedness was listed at $3,776,000 for Neenah and $1,790,000 for Menasha. Neenah's bank deposits came to $40,661,030 and Menasha's to $13,973,211. Both cities had a decline in bank deposits from the previous peak year of 1958. Neenah's decline was about $1,326,000 while Menasha's was $35,600.

New homes built in 1959 were 175 in Neenah worth $2,389,100 and 51 in Menasha worth $608,000.

Waives Hearing On Rape Charge

Oshkosh — Rodney C. Hughes, 23, 809 Marquette street, Menasha, this morning waived preliminary examination on charges of raping and stabbing a 15-year-old Menasha girl early the morning of Feb. 12 on a town of Vinland road.

The waiver was entered by his attorney, Joseph Franzol, Menasha, who was appointed by the court to serve as attorney for Hughes. Acting Municipal Judge Herbert J. Mueller ordered Hughes to plead to the charges at 10 a.m. on March 10. The bond was continued at $10,000.

Oshkosh Men Placed On Probation for 3 Years on Rape Charge

Oshkosh — Two Oshkosh men were sentenced to three years in the state reformatory and then placed on probation for three years by Acting Municipal Judge Herbert J. Mueller this morning on charges of statutory rape.

Ronald K. Hiland, 20, of 1153 A Cherry street, and Ralph Rennert, 24, of 332A Hudson avenue, waived preliminary examination and pleaded guilty through their attorney.

In sentencing the pair, Judge Mueller said "A crime of this nature committed on an underage girl is considered in bad taste and the offenders are married men with families making the crimes more vicious."

They were arrested Feb. 6 and arraigned Feb. 9. The crimes were committed on the same 17-year-old girl. The men had been out on $500 bond.

Fined $170 On 4 Charges

Oshkosh Man, 27, Says No Contest, Then Changes Plea

Oshkosh — Gerrard O. Flick, 27, 1214-A Cepe avenue, Oshkosh, was fined $170 on four charges in municipal court at Oshkosh today before Floyd D. Atherton, acting municipal judge.

Through his attorney he first pleaded no contest but later changed the plea to guilty. He was charged with drunken driving, for which he was fined $100 or 30 days and had his license revoked for a year; hit-and-run, for which he was fined $50 or 15 days and 12 points against his right to receive a license; driving an unregistered vehicle, for which he was fined $10 or three days and two points; operating the wrong way on a 1-way street, for which he was fined $10 or one day in jail and one point.

Annual Parish Meeting Set For March 13

St. Patrick Lists $103,166 Income, $99,232 Expenses

Menasha — St. Patrick parish last year had income of $103,166, expenses of $99,232 and a Dec. 31 cash balance of $3,933, the annual financial report issued Sunday discloses.

During the year the parish paid off its remaining debt of $25,375 principal and interest on the 1952 church remodeling project. The building fund's year-end balance was $45,979. This spring, the parish will proceed with a new convent and a school addition of eight classrooms.

The parish's annual meeting will be at 2 p.m. March 13, postponed a week because of a schedule conflict. The building proposal will be presented at the meeting.

Major receipt items were $29,689 from parish memberships; $50,723 from Sunday collections; and $8,400 for special collections, paid out immediately in the same amounts.

The cash balance Jan. 1, 1959 was $10,833.

Major expenses were $31,722 for salaries of pastor, assistants, teachers, custodians and other personnel; $28,409 in maintenance, repair and operation; and $8,200 special assessments. The parish paid $7,000 of its $25,000 assessment to the newly established St. Gabriel parish in Neenah and $1,050 to the Green Bay diocese. The building fund received $24,500 from general funds.

Change Dates for Census Tests at Menasha Church

Menasha — The test for applicants for the census enumerator posts will be given at St. Thomas Episcopal church parish house at 2 p.m. today and Tuesday only, it was announced today.

Originally, it was planned to have the test there each afternoon this week but the parish hall will not be available on the other days.

Persons seeking the census enumerator posts may make application when they report for the test. There is no need to make an advance application.

Tests also are scheduled for the Winnebago county courthouse and the Chilton city hall this week.

Father of Two Neenah Women Dies at 89

Neenah — John Schultz, 89, former Menasha resident and father of two Neenah women, died Sunday morning at a Shawano hospital. A retired farmer, he was born in Stettin, Germany and came to the United States as a boy. He lived in Menasha until 1892.

Services will be at 2 p.m. Tuesday in St. John Lutheran church, Mattoon, and burial will be at Mattoon.

Survivors are Mrs. Paul Peeters and Mrs. Harland Richardson, both of Neenah, and another daughter, Mrs. John Conrad, Phoenix, Ariz., and four sons, August, with whom he made his home, and Otto, Reinhold and William, all of Mattoon.

Pleads Innocent of Drunken Driving

Oshkosh — Leslie G. O'Neil, 38, of 1103 N. Appleton street, Appleton, this morning pleaded innocent to a charge of drunken driving and Acting Municipal Judge Floyd D. Atherton set trial for 2 p.m. Wednesday, March 9. O'Neil was released on $150 bond.

O'Neil was arrested by county police at 12:55 a.m. Saturday when he was observed driving erratically on Highway 47.

Miss Barr Says Vows

Neenah — Miss Judith Ann Barr became the bride of Thomas Edward Stolzman at 7 p.m. Saturday in Trinity Lutheran church, Menasha. The Rev. Walter Lichtsinn read the marriage promises at the double ring ceremony.

Miss Janet Mueller sang "The Lord's Prayer" and "The Wedding Prayer."

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Barr, 111 S. Lake street, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Edward Stolzman, Fremont.

Maid of honor was Miss Jill Alice Barr, sister of the bride. Miss Joline Andrea Barr, another sister, and Miss Jo Ann Milla Stolzman, sister of the bridegroom, were bridesmaids.

Elroy Boelter, Fremont, was best man. Groomsmen were Verlyn Fuhrmann and Jerald Barr, brother of the bride. Ushering guests to their places in the church were David Christianson and Kenneth Stolzman.

Following the wedding a reception and dance were held at Eagles hall, Neenah.

The bride is a graduate of Neenah High school and the Appleton school of business. She is employed as a secretary at Kimberly-Clark corporation.

Mr. Stolzman is a graduate of Weyauwega High school and is employed by Marathon division.

Mr. and Mrs. Stolzman will live at 629 1/2 Maple street.

Museum Has Show Of 'Indirect Oils'

Oshkosh — "Indirect oils" refers to neither the subject matter nor the piquant titles, but to the technique employed by Richard W. Osborn in the 14 paintings now showing at the Oshkosh Public Museum.

Osborn, a member of the Oshkosh State college art faculty since 1957, uses a technique popularized by the Dutch painters of the seventeenth century. His transparent pigments used as an overglaze enrich the colors of the thin under-painting.

In addition to the oil paintings Osborn has a small collection of his prints and drawings included in the show.

Award Winner

Viewers who find Osborn's starkly realistic works heavier fare than recent museum exhibits should be reminded that one of his paintings won a popular vote contest at the Winnebago County fair in 1958.

He has exhibited at the Iowa Art salon, the University of Missouri, the Chicago Artists' institute, the Chicago Artists' exhibition and at Concordia Teachers college in Lake Forest, Ill.

He received his master of fine arts degree from the school of the Chicago Art Institute.

Minnesota department in Minneapolis.

stitute in June, 1957. From 1953 to 1956 he also served as preparator of prints and drawings at the institute.

Graduate Study

A year of graduate study was done under Louis Ritman. One of Ritman's paintings, "Sunkissed," is numbered among the Oshkosh museums permanent collection. Osborn also studied with Max Kahn and Robert Lifvendahl at the institute.

His undergraduate work was done under Fred Shane and Archie Musick at the University of Missouri.

He is a member of Delta Phi Delta, national art fraternity, and the holder of the W. M. F. French scholarship and the Daniel D. Vandergriff scholarship on two occasions.

VFW Members Attend Sixth District Event

Menasha — Nicolet Veterans of Foreign Wars auxiliary members attending the sixth district meeting Sunday in Oshkosh were Mrs. Earl Mork, district president, Mrs. Arthur Hass, Mrs. Ben Mattheus, Mrs. Harold Klutz and Mrs. Oscar Blank.

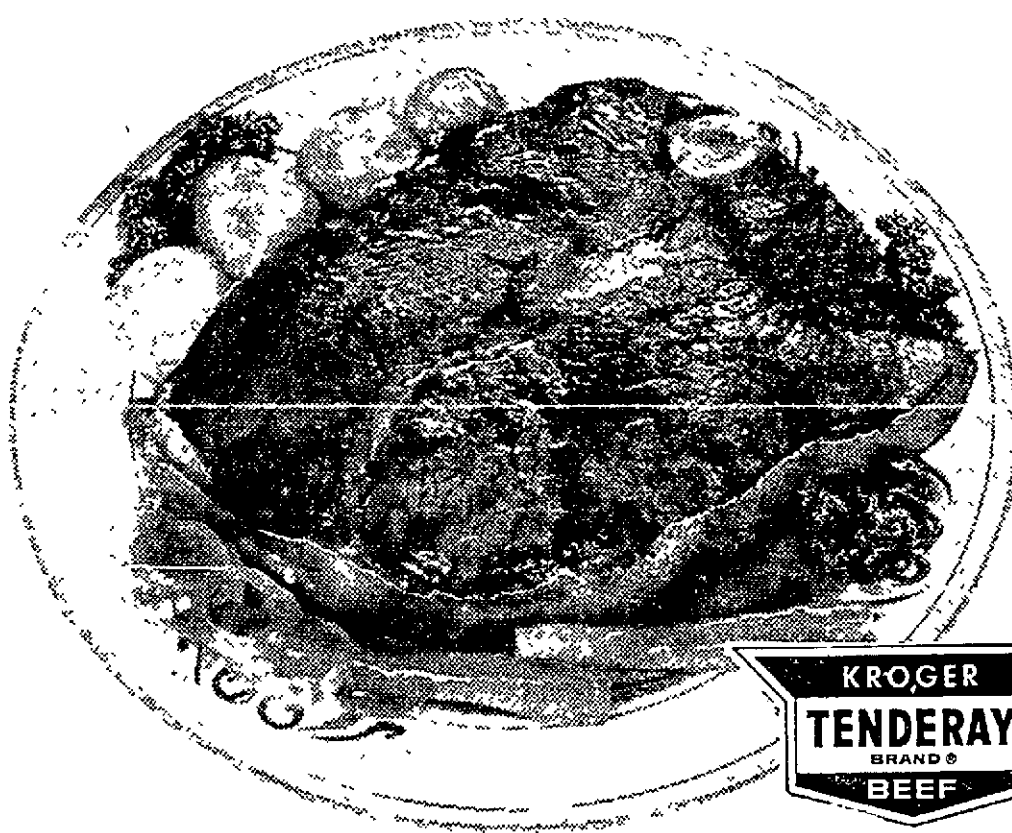

District officers will be elected at the May 22 parley in Sheboygan.

Town Plans Vote on Legal Liquor Sales

Post-Crescent, Madison Bureau

Madison — The town of Ashwaubenon in Brown county will have a referendum on the question of legalizing the sale of liquor within its limits in the spring election, the state beverage tax division has announced.

State law requires the filing of petitions with the state agency preparatory to local option elections. The town now prohibits the sale of liquor.

New Holstein, Macs in Tie For EWA Lead

Menasha	8	H. Reddsville	2
New Holstein	8	Valders	2
Kiel	7	Chilton	3
Brillion	4	Plymouth	2
Hilbert	3	Denmark	1

New Holstein 23, Kiel 68.
Chilton 43, Hilbert 58.
Menasha 88, Denmark 63.

Chilton — Menasha and New Holstein both won their last regularly scheduled Eastern Wisconsin Amateur league games to finish second round play in a first place tie.

The two teams will meet in a playoff to decide the second half championship. A Menasha win would give the Macs the season's title outright since they copped the first half crown. A New Holstein victory would pit the teams in a best-of-three playoff series.

Fell Off Badly

In winning Saturday at Kiel, 73-68, New Holstein shoved the hosts into second place with a 7-2 record. Both clubs went into the contest with 7-1 records.

Kiel held the upperhand throughout the first period but fell off badly in the second frame to drop behind by nine points at the half, 40-31.

The teams matched points during the third period and Kiel closed the gap somewhat during the final stanza but fell five points short.

Beat Denmark

Menasha had little trouble downing last place Denmark, 88-63. The Macs took an early lead and never relinquished it. They held a 13 point bulge, 47-34, at the half.

Rohe had 24 points for Menasha on 12 baskets and two gift shots in pacing all scorers. Jorgenson had 21 for the losers.

"Skippy" Schmidtkofer sparked a Chilton attack during the fourth period that forged a come-from-behind win over favored Hilbert. Schmidtkofer fired 11 of his 17 point total in the last frame.

Chilton was down by five at the quarter, pulled to within two points at halftime, then dropped behind by four when Schmidtkofer found the range. Goggins had 16 for Chilton. Game scoring honors went to Hilbert's Eickert who garnered 27 points.

Freedom High Wins Sub-District Title

Downs Winneconne Five, 56-51; Shiocton Trips Bear Creek

Freedom Tourney

Saturday Night's Results:
Consolation—Shiocton 56, Bear Creek 48.
Championship—Freedom 56, Winneconne 51.

The Freedom High school basketball team will meet Manawa Friday night in the opening round of the Manawa District basketball tournament.

The Irish won their way into the District with a 56-51 success over Winneconne Saturday night in the championship game of the Freedom Sub-District. Shiocton stopped Bear Creek, 56-48, for Sub-District consolation honors.

Freedom sped away to a 20-point halftime lead over Winneconne and then had to hang on for dear life to triumph. The Irish were on top, 19-9, after one stanza and 37-17 at the half but then Winneconne turned on the steam and shaved the Irish lead to 46-39 after three periods.

Winneconne moved to within two points in the fourth period and stayed there till it was 53-51 Freedom. Then Ron Van Rossum dropped in one free throw, and, with about 35 seconds to go Ken Fredrickson two, to provide insurance.

Senior forward Vern Bowers led balanced Freedom scoring with 14 points and Jim Greiner, who just became eligible, had 13. Dave Pohlman coined 15 and Ron Mueller 13 for Winneconne after each had totaled just two points in the first half.

Freedom, which has now won four in a row including its big upset of ranked Shiocton Friday, made 12 of 18 free throws. Winneconne tallied nine of 16.

The Shiocton - Bear Creek game was tight all the way until the Chiefs moved out early in the fourth stanza. The Chiefs won the game from the

No Need to Return Unordered Articles, Residents Advised

Neenah — Housewives and businessmen who may receive merchandise in the mail which they did not order and do not want were advised today by John Konrad, executive secretary of the Neenah-Menasha Chamber of Commerce, to ignore requests for payment for those items if they did not use them.

Nor are they under obligation to return the unordered merchandise, he declared. They also do not have to provide storage facilities in their homes for the unwanted goods.

Many persons have been receiving through the mails such items as aprons, books, fountain pens, socks, flags, wallets, stamps, hosiery and numerous other items, accompanied by a request for either payment of the goods or return of the merchandise to the shipper. Some of the dunning letters, he said, contain threats, either direct or implied of legal action if payment is not made.

As a practical matter, no vendor will institute suit for merchandise of little value as the cost would be prohibitive, Konrad warned.

instead might be issued on a quality point basis.

Lee and Childress agreed schools may run well on a "track" system, with ability grouping within subject areas, such as science and language arts.

In the grades, Lee believes the gifted student may be advanced by skipping grades if he is socially, intellectually and physically mature enough to profit. Otherwise, they suggested leaving them in their normal grades, but giving them advanced work to do, so that by the end of the sixth grade year "you can really make the junior high do things with them." Acceleration, they believed, might be better in junior and senior high school, since they are better prepared for speedups. "And when the student is ready, the school is obligated to give him experiences he is ready for."

On admission to kindergarten, Lee said he doubted a community Menasha's size could support a 2 or 3-year kindergarten program which the survey report saw as an ideal for first grade preparation because of finance and space.

'Go to Bat'

Touching upon democracy in education, Neely said he thought it means that "no handicap is imposed by our society upon any child to prevent him from realizing the best that is in him," and not "that every child has the right to more or less the same average progressive education."

Caution on Failures

Shall the schools ever fail the slow student who has been passed into high school, but who tries to his limit and who needs the social adjustments of high school?

Childress answered: "a person can be passed into and from high school as long as he is making progress. He is unable in the things we ask him to do, but fail him if he is not making progress." Further in the program, Childress answered a query on the advisability of issuing both academic and attendance diplomas, saying the latter should not be considered. Diplomas concluded Lee.

Schools Hold Programs To Mark Brotherhood Week

Neenah — Public element of the country they represented schools last week observed Brotherhood week with special programs and classroom activities.

Lincoln school climaxed its observance with an assembly and a presentation of the Red Cross boxes, which were accepted by Fred Boness of the fifth grade. Songs, poems, plays and skits were given on the theme at the assembly.

Third graders gave a play "Brother Sam" to the other classes. In the play were Susan Cabelka, Rolland Buchanan, Barbara Crist, Daniel Peck, Steve Carpenter, Kathryn Benson and Patty Miller. Movies and film strips pointing up the Brotherhood theme were shown in each class.

Taft school for its observance decorated bulletin boards and had a display of Red Cross boxes. Children brought coins from other countries and wrote articles about people in other countries. One class made puppets and gave a play for the other grades.

Red Cross boxes also were filled which are to be sent to other countries, and at an assembly a student from each grade dressed in the costume of a foreign country to receive the boxes.

Washington School

Washington school's kindergarten discussed President Eisenhower's trip to South America and made flags as part of the Brotherhood week observance. Other classes had special programs and saw movies and film strips as well as packing Red Cross boxes. Sixth graders discussed Ne- war troubles in the south and fifth graders had five girls dressed in costume who told McKinley school primary grades and kindergarten had discussions and read stories about brotherhood. The first graders brought pictures of children who looked different which were put into a "home movie" made by the class. Middle grades discussed where brotherhood should be practiced in the United States. A program with songs, pantomimes, plays and the presentation of the Red Cross boxes also was held.

Roosevelt school will have an assembly at 10:30 a.m. Thursday at which its Red Cross boxes will be presented. The sixth graders will give a Red Cross play, "Here and There," third graders and fifth graders will sing songs and the fourth grade will pre-bards and had a display of Red Cross boxes. Children brought coins from other countries and wrote articles about people in other countries. One class made puppets and gave a play for the other grades.

Assembly Program

Wilson school had its Brotherhood week assembly program Friday with the presentation of Red Cross boxes to Supt. of Schools Harold B. Mennes. First graders sang a song and the third and fifth graders sang the Red Cross song. The fourth and fifth graders gave a choral reading on Lincoln's "Gettysburg Address" and the fifth graders also gave short talks on the meaning of brotherhood.

Hoover school also observed Brotherhood week in various ways. Sixth graders learned a song, wrote poems and discussed the purpose of brotherhood along with the Junior Red Cross. Fifth graders, who had completed a Civil War unit discussed racial and religious prejudices and fourth graders learned songs on the theme.

After 15 Years of Service as custodian of Elisha D. Smith Public library, Elias Bayer retired today. His final month's paycheck was presented by Fred A. Jung, president of the library board of trustees, at right. The new custodian will be Clarence Resch, retired police captain.

Set Program on Form Regulations

Oshkosh — An informational and educational meeting about the federal conservation reserve program regulations has been scheduled for 1:15 p.m. Tuesday, March 8, at the courthouse lounge and discussed brotherhood in relation to President Eisenhower's South American trip. The third grade named five committees for writing stories and drawing pictures on the theme while the second grade pupils brought artioncles from other countries to show. The first grade collected dolls from other countries and discussed their means of dress as well as hearing stories and poems.

Kimberly school collected donations for the work of Dr. Tom Dooley as part of its Brotherhood week program. It also used bulletin boards, extension office, soil conservation office, department of game manager and the farm home administration.

Cinderella Hockey Team Brings U. S. Third Gold Medal

America Is Led in Final Team Standings

Squaw Valley, Calif. —(AP)—The U. S. team's Cinderella hockey team capped the 1960 winter Olympic games that opened with criticism and closed with high praise.

Jack Riley's Yanks won the first hockey medal in this nation's history Sunday by staging a comeback for six and a 9-4 victory over Czechoslovakia after trailing 3-2.

The victory brought the United States its third gold medal of the games and a first-place finish behind the Soviet Union and Sweden. The Swedes were one-point ahead of the U. S. in the unofficial standings.

Three years ago at Cortina, the forces of Uncle Sam finished sixth with two medals—both in figure skating. They captured the two this time as Carol and David Jenkins did victoriously. Then came an surprising hockey triumph that included victories by the U. S. over the favored team of Canada and the Soviet Union.

The Canadians beat the defending champion Russians, for second place in the tournament. The Russians edged third.

The Yanks took the ice at the Czechs plainly and from their thrilling wins of the Canadians and Russians. Trailing, 4-3, after a restless period, the Americans were sitting glumly in the dressing room before the period when in walked an American team captain Nikolai Sologubov. He suggested that the Americans do a Russian—breathe oxygen to offset the high, 6,200-foot altitude of Squaw Valley.

Sologubov, a 35-year-old army captain, kept his arms and talking broken English about the effects of oxygen. Finally, the Americans won.

Dr. Martin Luther Preps Use Semi-Stall For Final 11 Minutes

The Fox Valley Lutheran High-school basketball team lost its season's finale, 32-28, to the Dr. Martin Luther preps of New Ulm, Minn., here Saturday night.

The visitors overcame a 9-6 deficit to lead, 10-9, after one period and never trailed again. A frigid, 2-point second quarter put the Foxes 11 points behind at the half, 22-11.

FVL chopped away at its deficit and pulled within two points (30-28) and had possession of the ball in the final minute—but failed to connect. Al Just hit two insurance free throws for Luther in the final 15 seconds.

The New Ulm team, which now has a 15-2 record, took only 13 shots in the second half—making three. It used a semi-stall for the final 11 minutes of the game.

FVL had an unofficial, 34-25 rebounding edge. The loss broke the Foxes' winning streak at seven games and brought their final record to 13-11.

 Championship—St. Joseph vs. St. Margaret Mary (8:00).

Sunday Night's Results:
 St. Joseph 59, Holy Name 55.
 St. Margaret Mary 47, St. Mary 80.

Appleton St. Joseph meets Neenah St. Margaret Mary tonight for the championship in the seventh annual St. Mary of Appleton Grade School Basketball tournament.

Trailing by 10 points with just 5½ minutes to go, St. Joseph downed Holy Name of Kimberly, 59-52, in Sunday evening's semi-finals. St. Margaret Mary tripped the tournament host, 47-30. A capacity crowd of approximately 1,000 was in attendance.

Four Holy Name players were lost on fouls in St. Joseph's sensational victory. Holy Name was on top, 19-8, after one period, 33-26 at the half and 47-38 after three stanzas.

Scores 21
 Joe Bowers scored 21 points and "Rocky" Bleier 19 for St. Joseph. Dick Siebers paced Holy Name with 16. Gerald Wyngaard, Ed Van Nuland, Lee Levknecht and Siebers all were disqualified on fouls. The losers had four more field goals than St. Joseph's 17 but were outshot from the free throw line, 25 to 10.

St. Margaret Mary jumped away to a fast start and was ahead of St. Mary all the way though the losers cut their deficit to eight points at one time in the third quarter. George Wiesner tallied 17 to pace St. Margaret Mary. St. Mary was led by Tim Garvey, on 12.

Vikes Bow to St. Olaf In 64-62 MC Finale

Schulze Hits Career High Of 22 Points

Lawrence college's cagers were nipped, 64-62, by St. Olaf in their 1959-60 wind-up game at Northfield, Minn., Saturday night.

The Oles used the free throw line to avenge an earlier loss to the Vikes. Outshot, 26-22, on field goals, the Oles made 20 of 33 free throws. Lawrence, with less than half the foul-line chances, made 10 of 15.

St. Olaf's Karl Groth led all scorers with 23 points, 11 of them on free throws.

Junior guards Jim Schulze and "Chuck" Knocke paced the Lawrence offensive with a combined total of 41 points. Schulze poured in 22 for the top effort of his varsity collegiate career. Knocke hit for 19, 16 of them coming in a fine second half.

Lawrence's last lead was 18-17 about five minutes from the end of the first half. St. Olaf took advantage of a dry spell to sweep ahead by 12 at the half.

Lawrence peeked away at the St. Olaf lead but could get no closer than 1 or 2 points in the second half.

The Vikes shot only 31 percent from the field in the first half but compiled a 54 percent record in the second. Lawrence's Midwest conference record for the season is 5-13. Overall, the Vikes had a 5-17 season.

Post 60-52 Victory Over Springs '5'

BY JIM HARP
 Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Little Chute — Menasha St. Mary won its fourth straight Catholic Regional tournament title with a 60-52 triumph over St. Mary Springs of Fond du Lac here Sunday afternoon.

Host St. John copped the consolation honors with a thumping 76-38 victory over St. Gregory of St. Nazianz.

Little Indication
 The 8-point victory margin of the Zephyrs gives little indication as to how well they were in command in the championship contest. It was not until late in the final period that Springs caught fire and closed a gap which was more than 20 points at times. Springs started out with a possession-type game, doing a lot of passing and little shooting. The slick defense of St. Mary's prevented Springs from working the ball in, a number of passes were intercepted and the winners practically controlled rebounds at will.

With the win, the Zephyrs upped their season record to 22-1.

With Pete VanderHyden setting the pace in the first half the Zephyrs took command with 29 points while holding Springs to 13. The Menashans ran up a 12-3 lead at the end of the first period with VanderHyden getting eight of the 12 markers.

Only One Goal
 The Ledgers managed only one field goal in the first period and two in the second. The closest the margin came in the second quarter was 16-10. Bob Rueckl, Tony Rechner and Mike Herlache came through with quick buckets to hike the Zephyr margin to 22-10. Before the halftime horn team Captain Jack Kirane, of Brookline, Mass., looked up and said:

"O. K. Solly, bring it in."
"I think the lift was mostly psychological," said Coach Jack Riley, who doesn't have his players take oxygen between periods. "I know the boys appreciated Solly's gesture."

The U. S. team crashed home six goals in the final period, three by Roger Christian of Warroad, Minn.

The Squaw Valley facilities were lambasted nearly continually since the games were awarded to his area in California's High Sierra four years ago. Criticism ranged from the downhill ski course to hot dog prices.

As the games ended Sunday, there were congratulations from European sports officials and from Avery Brundage, president of the International Olympic Committee.

The Soviet Union scored 1651 points with big showings in the men's and women's speed skating. In men's skating Eugene Gri-shin won gold medals at 500 and 1,500 meters while Lidija Skoblikova took a pair in women's skating.

The Soviets didn't get a gold medal in cross country skiing or successfully defend their Olympic hockey title. But they led in gold medals with seven.

Sweden tallied 714 points with three gold medals while Uncle Sam's forces had 71 and Germany 701. Germany took four gold medals.

East Germany's Helmut Recknagel captured the final one Sunday in the special ski jumping with a best jump of 93.5 meters, or 307 feet. Second place went to Finland's Niilo Halonen, 19-year-old student, who had a leap of 921 meters or 303 feet as his best.

The best the United States could do was seventh by Ansten Samuelstuen of Steamboat Springs, Colo. He had 211.5 points.
A crowd estimated at 28,000 for the final day's activities swelled the 11-day total to 240,900, far below the hoped-for total of 350,000. It is expected the games sponsors will have to dip into the $1 million "snowy day fund" voted by the California legislature as the last of $8,990,000 in state appropriations.

the conference championship with a 93-68 triumph over Wisconsin Saturday and are aiming at an undefeated Big Ten record before entering the NCAA championships.
"It's been a good year," said Coach Fred Taylor, "but we want to see it we can make it better. It's an opportunity of a lifetime to go all the way."

Illinois Did It
It has been 17 years since a Big Ten team has come through a conference campaign without defeat. Illinois did it with a 12-0 record in 1943. If OSU succeeds, the Buckeyes will become the first team to go through a 14-game schedule without defeat.

Ohio State plays at Indiana tonight and ends the season at Minnesota Saturday. In NCAA competition, the Buckeyes will face the winner of the Miami (Fla.) and Western Kentucky game.

Indiana rang up its ninth straight with a 76-74 decision over Minnesota; Northwestern edged Purdue, 68-66; Illinois defeated Iowa, 65-70, and Michigan broke into the win column with a surprising 72-60 victory over Michigan State.

Indiana (9-3) assured itself of at least a tie for second. Minnesota (8-5) is third while Northwestern took over fourth.

Besides tonight's Ohio State-Indiana battle, Wisconsin will be at Northwestern and Michigan at Illinois.

Ohio State, particularly since the Badgers trailed only 47-45 early in the second half. He pointed out that the Badgers got the shots but couldn't hit. They hit only .345 from the floor.

Won Crown
Ohio State won the Big Ten title by beating the Badgers. It was the twelfth straight conference victory for the Buckeyes.

The Buckeyes exploded with their fast break early in the final period after the Badgers had come to within two points of tying the score. In less than five minutes, Ohio State scored 12 straight points. The Bucks then proceeded to pour it on to run up a 83-55 margin before the reserves took over.

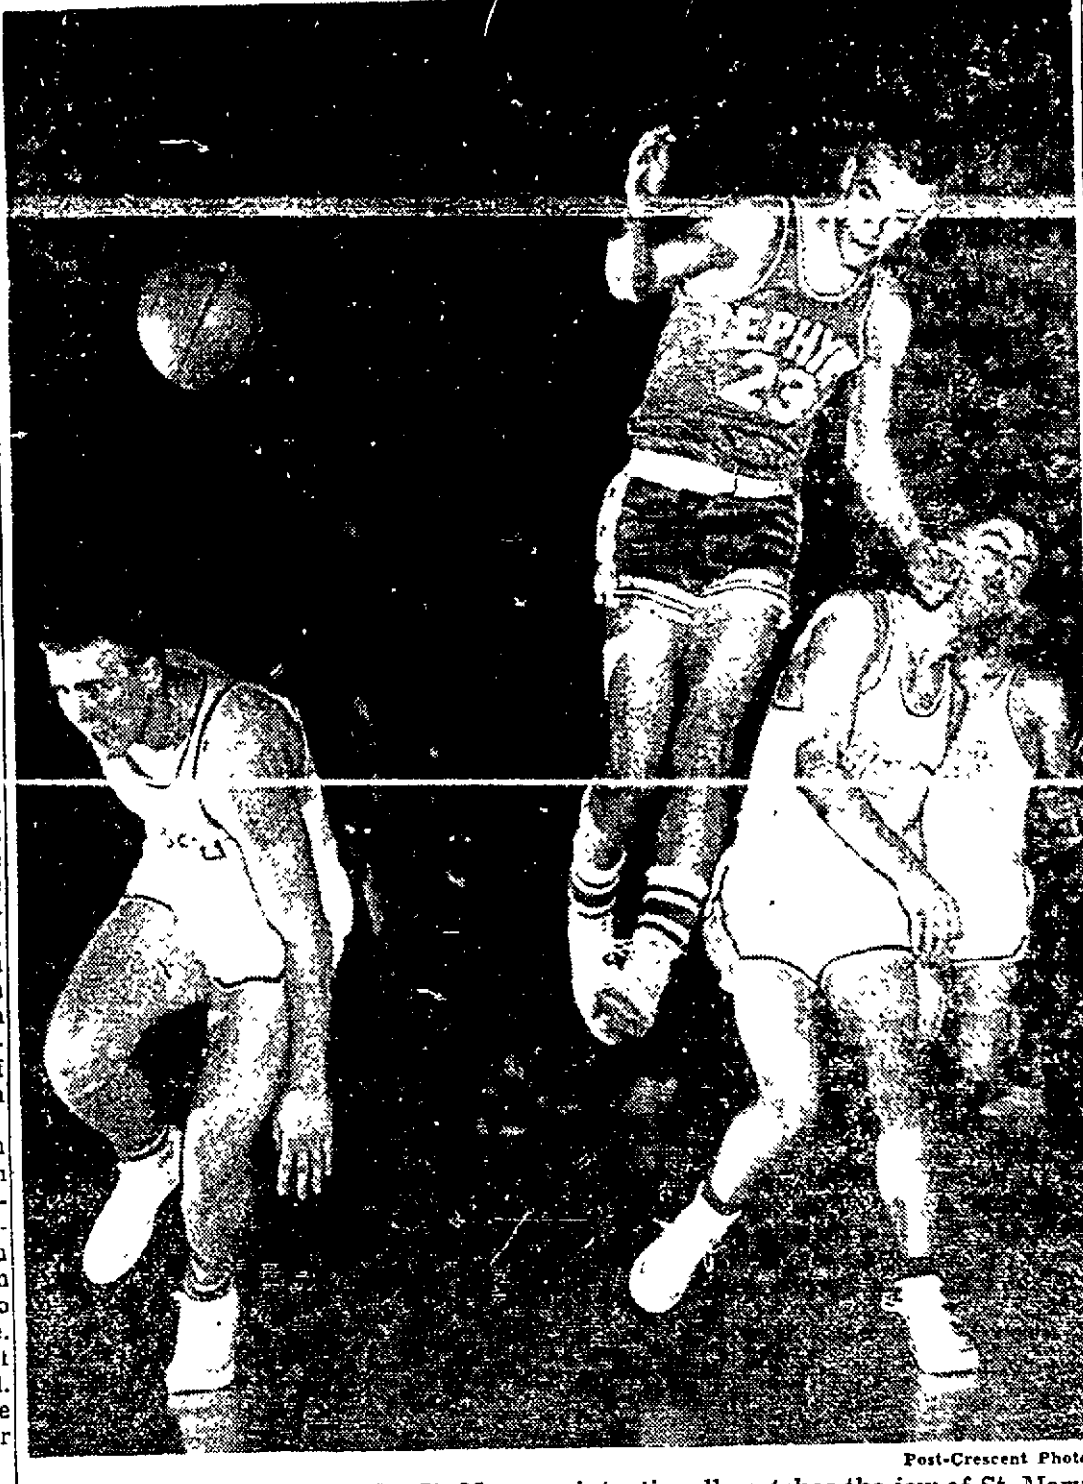

Wisconsin had its brightest moments in the first half in a rally led by Jack Ulwelling who wound up as the high Badger with 18 points. Ulwelling sank the first six shots he took, mostly from outside.

Jerry Lucas led the Buckeyes in scoring with 20 points. It was one of his lowest totals of the season, but his rebounding was outstanding as he picked off 22.

There's no stopping Will Chamberlain for three-quarters of a game. It's all or nothing.

The Detroit Pistons thought they had Chamberlain stifled in Sunday's NBA game in Detroit against the Philadelphia Warriors. He scored just seven points through the first half, and managed only five more in the third quarter.

That gave him 12 points for three quarters. Going into the final quarter, the Pistons led, 83-79.

But Chamberlain dropped in 11 points in the final quarter. The Warriors broke a 98-all tie deadlock and went on to win, 113-111, with Chamberlain getting the clincher with 30 seconds to go.

In other games, the Boston Celtics defeated the New York Knickerbockers, 129-120, and the St. Louis Hawks turned back the Cincinnati Royals, 122-105.

Racine St. Catherine '5' Leads Field Into State Catholic Meet

By The Associated Press
Weekend activity produced eight regional champions who will fight it out for the Wisconsin Catholic high school title at Milwaukee March 13.

The field is led by defending champion Racine St. Catherine which won the Region 8 finals Sunday with a 76-51 victory over Beloit Catholic.

It was the twenty-sixth straight victory for the Angels who are entered in the national invitational prep meet at Washington, D.C. in mid-March.

Menasha St. Mary, loser in last year's final, won another chance at the crown by trimming Fond du Lac St. Mary Springs, 60-52, in Region 5.

Waukesha Darkhorse
Waukesha Memorial, winner in Region 6, stamped itself at a darkhorse by beating Milwaukee Pius, 60-59, on Dave Oberlin's jump shot from the corner in the final second.

Eau Claire Regis won from Superior Cathedral, 65-45, to end the losers' 3-year reign as Region 1 titlist.
La Crosse Aquinas trimmed Prairie du Chien Champion, 65-59, in the finals of Region 2.

Marquette Central Catholic downed Green Bay Premonstratense, 45-39, for Region 4 honors in a meet involving only three teams.

Milwaukee Notre Dame was the other Sunday winner, defeating Milwaukee Don Bosco in Region 7.

Saturday night, Wisconsin Rapids Assumption annexed the Region 3 title with a 71-60 conquest of Wausau Newman.

Ed Pope Rink Wins State Lions' Bonspiel

New London Entry Defeats Haug, Of Galesville

Waupaca — The Ed Pope rink of New London edged Donald Haug of Galesville in an extra end Sunday to capture the championship of the State Lions club bonspiel.

The two rinks were tied at 8-all in the tenth end, but the Pope rink took the advantage the next end. Pope's curlers were Ned Demming and Dr. Gordon Meiklejohn of New London and Frank Stratton and Alvin Braatz, Waupaca.

Rink Bloomquist's Clintonville rink won the second event title by downing "Dobie" Robertson of Appleton. Bloomquist's curlers were Hugo Schauder, Orval Malueg and Jack Zellmer.

The third event saw Harold Bammel, Waupaca, defeat Reuben Danielson of Waupaca. Bammel's rink included Harold Wagner, Irv Nicholasen, and Dr. Frank Hayes.

Dick Ruth of Wausau captured the fourth event by downing the Dr. Gordon Wickman rink from Waupaca. Ruth's rink included Merrill Sischo, Wausau, and Frank Egan and Julius Johnson, Waupaca.

Spahn Denies Claims He, Burdette Ran Club

Reports to Camp Looking as Trim And Fit as Ever

Bradenton, Fla. — "If I'm worth my salt, I'll be pitching as often as ever."

So says veteran southpaw Warren Spahn who reputedly will draw $70,000 or more from the Milwaukee Braves for the 1960 season.

Spahn reported to the Braves' baseball training camp Sunday, looking as trim and fit as ever and willing to talk about recent comments by his new boss, Charlie Dressen.

Manager Dressen said last week that he probably would give veterans like Spahn and Lew Burdette four days rest between games "for the good of the club." Some of the younger hurlers complained that they were not used often enough last year to stay in condition. Spahn and Burdette usually worked every fourth day.

"Charlie is running the club," Spahn said. "I want to pitch, period. There are a lot of pitchers in camp and in the long run the manager's going to go with the best. If I'm worth my salt, I'll be pitching as often as ever."

"Last year we were world-beaters one day and terrible the next. Many times it looked like we didn't deserve to win. That's why this is such a tough year for us. We've got to fight our way back there."

Spahn, who will be 39 in April, reported in at 187 pounds, only a few over his best playing weight. He had a 21-15 record last year and has had 10 seasons in which he won 20 or more games.

The articulate hurler blasted some Milwaukee critics who contended that he and Burdette were running the club last year. Spahn pitched in 40 games and Burdette, who also finished with 21-15, in 41.

"That's ridiculous," Spahn said. "If I ran the club, I would never have been taken out. I might have been pitching more than I did."

Bobcats Play Big Roles in U. S. Victory

Squaw Valley, Calif. — Two members of the Green Bay Bobcats played leading roles Sunday with the United States hockey team that brought the first Olympic hockey gold medal to this country.

Riley was a high scorer in the 1948 Amateur Hockey association and on the U. S. team that went to the Olympics at St. Moritz, Switzerland in 1948. He was player-coach on the American team that finished third to Czechoslovakia and Canada at the 1949's world's championship at Stockholm, Switzerland.

Riley took the job at West Point on a temporary basis—and fell in love with it. He is also assistant athletic director and has just signed a 3-year contract.

Riley doesn't drink or smoke. He lives quietly—except when in Olympic competition.

"I've never been under such tension," said Riley. "I'll certainly be glad to get back to the Point and play M. I. T. and some of those other schools."

Forward Paul Johnson, who also played on the Green Bay Central league hockey championship team, was credited with an assist to Welden Olson who scored the first U. S. goal.

The Wisconsin State College conference winds up its basketball campaign tonight with much more at stake for some members than a mere statistic in the final standings.

Wisconsin - Milwaukee, though upset by Platteville, 80-79, in overtime Saturday night, already has clinched the title and will play in the NCAA regional tournament at Wheaton, Ill., Friday.

That leaves the second place winner in the state conference eligible to contend for a berth in the NAIA tournament at Kansas City March 7-12.

Oshkosh, Eau Claire and Platteville still have a chance for at least a tie for runnerup in the final standings. Oshkosh ended its season with an 8-4 record Saturday night by defeating Whitewater, 87-78, as Ron Dibelius scored 37 points. Eau Claire trounced River Falls, 80-74, and shares third place with Platteville on a 7-4 slate.

Plays Host
Eau Claire plays host to Stout tonight while Platteville is at Whitewater. If Oshkosh, Platteville and Eau Claire finish in a 3-way tie for second spot on 8-4 records, conference coaches will be polled to determine which one will play the winner of Wednesday night's St. Norbert-Northland game at Stevens Point for the right to represent Wisconsin in the NAIA tournament.

If two teams tie for runner-up, a playoff game at Stevens Point Wednesday night will determine the conference entry in the Wisconsin NAIA playoff Friday night.

Maple Leafs Eliminate Rangers, 5-3

By the Associated Press
It was one down and one to go in the National Hockey league Stanley cup playoff today.

The last-place New York Rangers were mathematically eliminated when they dropped a 5-3 decision to the Toronto Maple Leafs Sunday night.

The other team that will watch the playoffs from the sidelines hasn't been decided yet.

The Boston Bruins currently are in fifth place, but they are only two points back of the Chicago Black Hawks, who turned back the Detroit Red Wings, 5-2, in the only other game Sunday night. The Black Hawks, in turn, are only a point behind the third place Red Wings.

Zephyrs Win, Qualify for State Meet

sounded the champions had run the advantage to 29-13. St. Marys continued to hold the lead through the third period by hitting 15 points while Springs had 12. The Zephyrs scored the first five points of the quarter for a 34-13 lead.

With John Callahan hitting from long range, Springs disposed of its slow-down tactics in the fourth period. The move resulted in 27 points for the Ledgers while St. Mary hit for 16.

Because of the big Zephyr lead Springs could not get in position to overtake St. Marys until it was 34-13 lead.

With the Zephyrs holding a 56-42 advantage, Springs hit for eight straight markers to make it 56-50. Less than 30 seconds remained at that point and there was little that the Ledgers could do.

Callahan gets 19
Callahan of Springs was the game's top scorer with 19 points, 12 of them coming in the last quarter. Vanderhyden hit 15 to lead the Zephyrs, who had nine men get into the scoring act.

St. John showed a reversal of form from its showing against the Zephyrs Friday night and had little trouble from St. Gregory.

The Chuters got off to a 24-11 first quarter lead and jumped the margin to 40-16 at the intermission. By the end of the third quarter it was 60-28.

Four players hit six field goals each for the Dutchmen, and Dave Koss took honors with 16 points. Vic Schnell had 11 for St. Gregory.

U. S. Hockey Team Provided Biggest Upset and Top Thrill

Squaw Valley, Calif. — Observations on the Winter Olympics:

Top Star—The weatherman, who provided perfect conditions for the athletes and spectators after first threatening to wipe out the games with flood and heavy snowfalls.

American Disappointments—Failure of the girl skiers to take a gold medal. Gamet Athletes—The Japanese and Australian hockey goal-tenders, who deserve purple hearts.

Oddity—All three U. S. victories were scored in Blyth arena, making the Yanks the indoor champions. In the games.

Biggest Suckers—Several would-be spectators who admitted they paid $25 apiece for stolen tickets for the top hockey games and then could be seated. The regular ticket-holders were provided with duplicates by the officials.

Jenkins Never Wants To Go Through Olympic 'Agony' Again
Cleveland — "It was great to get the medal, but never again," says Dave Jenkins, Olympic figure skating champion who is back from Squaw Valley to renew his studies today at Western Reserve university medical school.

"School instead of skating is the big thing for me from now on," the slight, blond and balding champion said Sunday night when he arrived at snow-blown Cleveland Hopkins airport.

"It was great to win, but really a terrible three days," said the 23-year-old Jenkins. "It really was agony, and I never would want to go through it again."

Palmer Captures Texas Open

San Antonio, Tex. — Arnold Palmer went on to Baton Rouge, La., today to see about bagging another jackpot.

The broad-shouldered young man from Ligonier, Pa., took $2,800 first money in the Texas open Sunday, winding up with 276 and a 2-stroke lead.

It was his third tournament victory in the last 10 starts and at the rate he's now going he could even surpass the $72,835.83 Ted Kroll socked away in 1956.

Palmer's total official winnings this winter are $18,999.86. Counting money in pro-amateurs he has totaled $20,211.86.

Arnold didn't exactly finish in a blaze of glory in winning the Texas open. He limped home with a 75.

Gov. Brown Wants To Open Squaw Valley To the Public

Sacramento, Calif. — With the end of the Winter Olympics, Gov. Edmund Brown plans to put two proposals for the 20-million-dollar Squaw Valley facilities before the legislature:

1. Money, possibly $250,000, to keep the ice rink and arena, parking lot and spectator center in uninterrupted operation.

2. Legislation to make it possible to condemn private property in the valley, particularly the privately-owned ski lifts.

"Public interest in Squaw Valley is properly at a peak now," Brown said. "I want to make sure that the taxpayers who helped pay for this splendid spectacle can continue to visit the scene and enjoy the facilities themselves."

Book on Mammals Excellent Reading

BY CLARA HUSSONG

Green Bay — Wildlife reference books need not be written and published in such a way that they will be of interest only to biologists, zoologists and students looking for facts.

They can be well and profusely illustrated; they can contain maps showing the range and distribution of the species under discussion, and they can be written as literature instead of merely as statistics.

Such a book is "The Wild Mammals of Missouri," by Charles W. and Elizabeth R. Schwartz. This big, beautiful book was published last December by the University of Missouri press and the Missouri conservation commission. The 56 full page plates, and numerous other pictures are the work of the male half of this biologist - writing-movie producing pair.

Some of you may remember the wildlife movie "Bobwhite Through the Year," which was shown a number of times in this area a few years ago. This award winning movie, and several others, were produced by the Schwartzes. They've written other books too, including "Game Birds of Hawaii."

Both are biologists on the staff of the Missouri conservation commission.

Next June when the Wisconsin Society for Ornithology holds its annual meeting in Adams, Mr. Schwartz will be the banquet speaker. No doubt he will show one of his movies, perhaps "The Story of the Mourning Dove," his latest production.

Sixty-two wild mammals are pictured and described in the book. Besides a full description of each, such other facts as distribution and abundance, habits and homes, food reproduction, importance, and management and control are given.

Missouri's mammals are much like Wisconsin's. A glance at the maps showing distribution of each species can tell you immediately whether the animal is also found in our state. Very few are outside our range, so the volume should be interesting and useful to Wisconsin residents.

Sounds of Animals
Many of us who spend a good deal of time in north woods places are sometimes intrigued and sometimes frightened by night sounds made by animals. Some of these remain mysteries all our lives, for many mammals, especially the larger ones, are nocturnal prowlers.

For each species, the Schwartzes have supplies a "Voices and Sounds" paragraph. Following is a description of the raccoon's various sounds:

"When undisturbed, raccoons may utter a chuckling sound; when annoyed or fighting, they snarl, growl, and hiss. A low, soft snort is given in recognition of unsocial individuals. To call her young, the female uses a low, grumbling purr. The young, when separated from their mother, give a call similar to that of a tree frog. In the autumn especially, raccoons may call to each other with a shrill, screech owl-like whistle."

Natural Enemies
In working out the food chain in a wildlife community, I've sometimes bumped into an almost blank wall when trying to find out who preys on what. The mink, for instance, is fully covered in most mammal books as to its food preferences: fish, frogs and other aquatic foods, mice, rats, squirrels, birds and other flesh foods.

But try to discover who gets the mink! The great horned owl is usually mentioned as one of its enemies, and some authors list the coyote and wolf as others.

In the Schwartz book it says: "The principal predators on minks are men, dogs, owls, foxes, coyotes and bobcats. The following parasites occur in or on minks: roundworms, flukes, tapeworms, protozoa, mites, lice, fleas and flies." Fur - farm minks become victims of a number of other ailments and diseases, the authors say.

Bobcat Biography
Another mammal whose biography I read in this book was the bobcat. In recent years we've seen this animal a number of times while staying at the Holz's cabin on the north branch of the Oconto river. At those times we'd wonder idly whether the cat had its home close by, or just happened to be prowling through.

Second - growth timber and timbered swamps are its habitats, the book says, and immediately I thought of the little "linnaea's bog" on the Holz's 40 acres. "Bobcats can kill animals as large as a deer by biting the throat at the jugular vein," I read.

Next June, when the little Linnaea blossoms are out, I'm going to make sure that Phyllis comes along with me when I go into the bog. While I'm down on my hands and knees smelling the fragrant little bells, she can stand by with a switch to ward off wildcats.

Utility Report For '59 Shows Peak Earnings

the dryness caused net income to drop to $78,349.

The drought in 1959 and '31 showed net income drop to an all time low of $11,000 and $25,000 respectively; according to utility records. The utility has five hydro-electric plants on the Fox river and it enjoys its best financial year when normal rainfall is experienced.

Excessive rain raised the level of the water and reduces plant efficiency, according to Ranquette. In 1954 about 5-inches above average rainfall was noted and profits were $193,527, good but less than years with normal rainfall.

In 1959 the utility appropriated $76,923.74 to the city general fund, paid $47,405.26 in city property taxes and $29,595.85 in state taxes. Depreciation fund, which is earmarked for future expansion, was increased to $268,411.31 during the year.

Kaukauna Youth Fined For Being Disorderly

Kaukauna — Melvin Muellemans, 18, 820 Oviat street, Kaukauna, pleaded guilty of disorderly conduct when arraigned before Oscar T. Jahns, justice of the peace, Friday and was fined $10.

Muellemans was arrested by police when he was noticed kicking the door of a telephone booth on Lawe street.

The booth was being used in 1959 there were two dry months but the other 10 brought near normal rainfall which enabled the utility to report a good year. In 1958 the utility experienced its worst record in 20 years as

Find Interest Rates on Mortgages May Violate State Usury Laws

BY STERLING F. GREEN
Associated Press News Analyst

Washington — If you are appalled at the financing charges you must pay to buy a home, you have a reason. They are about the highest point in 30 years, and have bumped into the usury laws of some states.

Some mortgages, it is suspected in Washington, may actually have violated usury statutes, although it would take a court action to find out for sure.

For that reason, the government's federal national mortgage association recently refused to buy a dozen or so mortgages offered for sale by Tennessee lenders, until their legality was attested.

That was a rather remarkable incident. In effect, one federal agency declined to accept obligations insured by another agency—the Federal Housing Administration—for fear the paper would be found illegal and void.

Attack Discounts
Among the 11 states whose usury laws forbid interest charges higher than 6 per cent, some have considered raising the ceiling so as not to choke off housing credit.

Builders and organized real estate dealers recently have attacked what they called excessive discounts demanded by lenders.

When the builder of a new house finds a buyer, he usually sells the mortgage to a bank or loan company, which will collect the monthly payments. When money is tight, the builder has to take a discount on the mortgage; in other words, he accepts less for it than its face value.

Lawyers generally agree that a discount cannot be construed as part of the interest charge, even though the home buyer may pay for it ultimately. The builder who knows he will have to take a discount may simply jack up the price of the house to cover it.

And builders recently have areas asking discounts of up to 10 or 12 per cent.

The federal housing agencies are showing some nervousness about the reported lenders in some

Discounting Not Widespread Here As in Big Cities

The practice of discounting mortgages is not as widespread in the Fox Cities area as in larger cities.

Banks and loan associations currently charge 6 per cent on mortgages. Loan associations also have a fee which amounts to from 1 to 2 per cent of the loan. Banks and loan associations do not resell the mortgage.

Discounting is the normal practice on Federal Housing Authority loans. These are typically low down - payment loans, financed by companies such as insurance organizations, and insured by the FHA.

For example, a buyer sees a home advertised at $15,000. If he is able to pay only $1,000 down and finances through an agency operating under FHA protection, the seller must then raise his price to cover the discount. The borrower, although he applies for a $14,000 loan, actually receives perhaps $13,500. The difference is the discount. He pays back $14,000 and pays interest on $14,000.

The discount is charged to provide added protection for the lender, and the seller must charge more so he can receive his established price.

In the Fox Cities, it is estimated 900 loans amounting to $10 million annually are granted under FHA protection.

ousness over the situation, because the FHA permits a 5½ per cent interest rate on loans which it insures—just under the usury level of several states.

On top of that is added 1 of one per cent as an insurance premium, bringing the total charge to 6½ per cent in the first year of the mortgage. If the insurance charge were held to be interest, the usury limit would be exceeded in Delaware, Kentucky, Maryland, New Jersey, New York, North Carolina, Pennsylvania, Tennessee, Vermont, Virginia and West Virginia.

However a Tennessee court has held in a test case that the insurance premium is not

Home-School to Learn Details Of Art Program

Kaukauna — Parents of students at Holy Cross Catholic school will have the opportunity to learn about the school art program at a meeting of the Home-School association at 8 p. m. Tuesday in the school activity room.

The principal, Sister Emeline, has made arrangements to have someone explain the program, how art classes are held, how they are scored and general aims. All students will have some item of art work displayed for viewing after the discussion.

Students have been working with watercolors, chalks and crayons.

Paper Firm Sets Dividend In Stock Split

Warren Company to Pay 22½ Cents After Division

S. D. Warren company plans to pay a dividend of 22½ cents a share on stock outstanding after a two-for-one stock split, George Olmsted, Jr., president, said at the annual meeting in Boston.

This would be comparable to 20 cents a share on current shares. The first declaration at the new rate will be made in April, payable in June.

Walter H. Wilcox, a vice president, reported the paper manufacturer's orders have been "very good since the start of the year." He said backlog is twice the year-ago level, but he did not disclose specific figures. "We're assured of a very good first quarter" on volume, he commented.

Olmsted said the company should come close to its previously stated goal of boosting volume to 204,000 tons this year from 195,000 tons in 1959. But he added, "I'm much more concerned about holding down costs than I am with volume."

In the annual report, Mr. Olmsted noted he was setting a profit goal of $6 million in 1960. Last year Warren earned $4,978,221, equal to $4.60 a share, on sales of $70,978,656.

Company officials said Warren raised its prices $10 a ton Jan. 1 on merchant business — small, spot sales to stores. The company's paper prices averaged $363 a ton in 1959. Prices on contract business—usually large sales to big customers — are expected to rise in April.

"The paper industry needs another price increase during 1960 to assure an adequate return on invested capital," E. B. Gray, treasurer, said at the meeting. "We can expect increased wages in July, together with increased material costs throughout the year."

Rural DePere Man Fined for Speeding

Kaukauna — Joseph Bain, 28, route 1, West DePere, pleaded guilty of speeding when arraigned before Oscar T. Jahns, justice of the peace, Friday and was fined $15.

103 Seventh Graders Earn Baby Sitting Certificates

Kaukauna — One hundred well as older youngsters. Each was presented a certificate and will have their name filed at the school office for the convenience of residents seeking qualified sitters. Names of children, completing the clinic sessions, will be furnished persons desiring sitters on request.

Besides learning first hand the many facets of sitting, the students were presented with a booklet, "Safety Information for Baby Sitting," arranged and compiled by Albert Redding, fire captain, under the supervision of John Pavlik, fire chief of the West Milwaukee fire department. The first part of the booklet lists responsibilities of a baby sitter and how to prepare for a baby sitting job. It includes information on personal safety, fire safety and accident safety.

Stressed is the importance of calling for aid, how to give emergency first aid and artificial respiration. A form on the last page tells sitters what information should be gotten from parents prior to the parent leaving the home.

Car Rolls but Driver Escapes Injury in Mishap

Little Chute — Extensive damage was reported to a car driven by James R. Collins, 1020 W. Fifth street, Appleton, about 10:45 p.m. Thursday when the driver skidded on an icy patch on Highway 41, went into the ditch and rolled over.

The mishap occurred a short distance from the scene of the fatal accident earlier in the evening, according to Little Chute police. The driver escaped injury due to the soft snow into which the vehicle rolled, said police.

198-529 Lead Women's Loop

Kaukauna — Dorothy Siebers and Mildred Maley both registered 198 games and Anna Neiling topped a 529 series to share individual honors in the Thursday Women's league at the Bowling bar.

Other high scores were posted by Dorothy Siebers, 513; Harriet Mitchell, 500; Shirley Hurst, 500, and Evelyn Pendleton, 190.

Three Men Forfeit $15 Speeding Bond

Posting bond were Robert Whitman, 25, 211 Taylor street, Kaukauna; Ronald Van Dersa, 907 Depot street, Little Chute, and Keith Baitinger, 40, route 1, Kaukauna.

Way Cleared for One CD Director

City, County Agree on Resolution; Both Governments to Share Cost

The way was cleared this morning for appointment of a single civil defense director to serve both Appleton and Outagamie county.

Cost of the joint program will be borne 75 per cent by the county and 25 per cent by the city.

Legislative procedure may hold up the actual appointment until early in May.

A resolution, approved this morning by the city's CD committee and the county board's executive committee, calls for the appointment to be made by the two groups subject to confirmation by both the full board and council.

Goes to Board
The resolution will go before the board of supervisors at the March 8 meeting.

It calls for the termination of the county's present civil defense coordinator post, now held by Andrew J. Schiltz, as of March 31. County board Chairman Alvin Fulmer would serve as civil defense chief during the interim period. Mayor Clarence Mitchell has served as the city's civil defense head since the resignation of Robert C. Beltrone from that post June 15.

No salary figure was mentioned in today's discussion however the job will be on a fulltime basis.

The resolution sets forth the county board's executive committee as county civil defense committee. The city's current committee would

Electronic Issues Again Move Ahead In Early Afternoon

New York—(U)—Electronics and other speculative stocks were in demand as the stock market moved irregularly early this afternoon. Trading was routine.

Gains and losses of fractions to about a point were the rule among pivotal issues. The "science" stocks and other wide movers had gains going to 2 or 3.

The market was mixed at the start, managed a moderate gain in the morning and then lost its edge as prices turned uneven.

Electronics benefitted from additional recommendations by advisory services. The general business news background, however, was mixed.

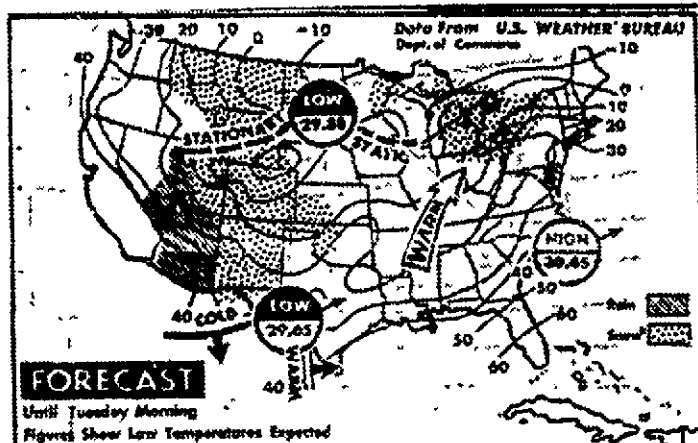

Steels, coppers, oils and rails were mostly lower. Tobacco, drugs and rubbers advanced.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was off .51 to 631.49. The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was off .10 to 218.50 with the industrials unchanged, the between Beltrone and Schiltz, during which Schiltz asked to have Beltrone appointed his assistant, then asked him to resign after Beltrone publicly criticized Schiltz for what he called lack of activity.

City and county officials decided the only thing to do was start over although they indicated Schiltz and Beltrone may apply for the new combined job.

Wausau is the only city which has a director serving it and its county, Marathon.

Scattered Snow and Snow flurries are expected tonight for the Great Lakes, Rockies, western plains and northern Minnesota while rain mixed with snow is forecast for Utah. Arizona will have rain. It will be colder from the middle Atlantic states south to Florida and west to Louisiana.

Winter Holds Firm Grip In Fox Cities

Winter held its grip throughout the Fox Cities this weekend. A low of eight was registered Sunday night. During Sunday's sunshine there was a high of 26.

Extremely high humidity and light snow coupled to give Sunday night a silver luster. Frost slicked roads and sidewalks and wind blew the fine snow in swirls.

Clear weather was the fare for most of the snow covered midwest over the weekend. The fresh blast of Arctic air reached into the central plains.

There was rain across wide areas from central and southern California eastward into Arizona and New Mexico.

Your Money's Worth

Expense Account Attack Begins

BY SYLVIA PORTER

(In collaboration with the Research Institute of America)

If you receive an expense account from your firm, beware! The treasury is off on a new attack against this top fringe benefit of yours.

The latest crack down represents a complete reversal of treasury attitude. Remember when it tried to add the famous line 6(a) to the individual tax return in 1957? The idea then was to make the employee show the amount of expense reimbursement he received from his employer and to list the way he spent it.

So loud was the howl of anguish over that maneuver that the treasury was forced to knock out line 6(a). Then in 1958, the treasury specifically approved the elimination of expense account details from the employee's tax return if the employee was required to account to his employer for his outlays. In other words, if the expense account was okay with the employer, it also was okay with the treasury.

Flagrant Abuses
Since then, expense account abuses apparently have become so flagrant that the treasury had to act. But recalling the lesson of 1957, it isn't touching the returns of taxpayers receiving the expense accounts.

You are still exempt from reporting details of reimbursement or expenses if you are required to account to your employer—and instead, the new attack is coming through the employer, the firm which pays the expense account. The crackdown will take two forms:

First, these firms will be asked to show on their returns certain detailed information about expense accounts which they pay. This will give the treasury facts it doesn't get from the returns of the individuals getting the expense accounts. Second, the accounting procedures of these firms will be checked during tax examinations by treasury auditors to see whether they are adequate.

Beginning with the tax return for 1960 — to be filed in 1961 — the treasury will ask firms for expense account in-

In corporations — the 25 highest paid officers.
In individual proprietorships — the proprietor and his five highest paid employees who get $10,000 or more in compensation and expense account combined.

In partnerships — all partners, both general and limited.
Each of these will have to show separately on its return the amount of compensation and the expense account paid, and whether the recipient accounted for his expense account. The expense account figure must show not only what was paid directly to the officer, partner, etc., but also any amount charged by him through any type of credit card.

Keep Records Now
The treasury is giving taxpayers a chance to comment about these new reporting requirements before finally putting them into effect on the 1960 return. Nevertheless, while it's leaving the door open for possible changes, the treasury also warns every employer to keep records from Jan. 1, 1960, so that the necessary information will be available if it goes ahead with these new reporting requirements.

Suppose this information is required on the 1960 return. Must an employer give it? Will he be penalized if he doesn't?

No, says the treasury, but failure to answer the questions may lead to an examination of the return.

A vital angle on this is that if giving the details would show the treasury a very heavy expense account in relation to compensation, this in itself probably would lead to an examination of the return.

But if the expense account items are relatively small, giving the information on the return may cut the chance

AAA Wants Revision of Point System

3 Modifications Requested for State Program

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

Madison — A revision of the point system of demerits under that it will be selected for a treasury examination, (Copyright, 1960)

der the state driver license program is being asked by the principal organization of motorists in Wisconsin.

The Wisconsin division of the American Automobile association has asked for three modifications of the present rules under which drivers lose points for driver license eligibility.

Repeal Penalty
One would lessen the penalty in points for exceeding the present 15 mile an hour limit in school zones because such limits "are unrealistic."

Another would repeal the additional 3-point penalty for moving vehicle infractions that involve an accident, because some of the penalized accidents are extremely minor in import.

A third would increase from two points "to possibly four" the penalty for parking in traffic lanes on highways.

Under the present system a motorist loses his driving privileges when he accumulates 12 demerit points during a 12-month period. The values of the infractions are established by the state motor vehicle department, in consultation with an advisory committee of law enforcement officials and others.

The AAA directors have also asked the state highway department to post plainly marked signs in addition to yellow pavement lines to des-
